Curriculum Committee update.....Jim Gilbert

The Curriculum Committee will be reviewing MBA 501 in January and get back to the faculty with recommendations. "During Curriculum discussion, Ted Herbert voiced that faculty members are concerned with the inadequate preparation students have with library/information literacy, particularly regarding appropriate search and evaluation through the internet, as well as related issues of plagiarism. Professor Adams underscored her frustration with students' lack of search capabilities. Professor Johnston volunteered that the Orientation program deals with plagiarism issues."

Update on Strategic Marketing Initiative at Rollins College.....Greg Marshall

- The data that was collected in the pre-marketing study conducted by Jule Gassenheimer and Greg Marshall and the subsequent analytical reports serve as a strong foundation for developing and implementing marketing strategies for Rollins.
- A document reflecting results of the research project will be developed and posted for general reading.
- An important next step is finding the right person – hopefully internally at Rollins – to fill a second-level position focused on institutional strategic marketing. This Rollins-level initiative will work closely with Crummer, Holt, Athletics, Admissions, and Alumni/Development to ensure quality and consistency of the institution's image, branding, and message.
- It is anticipated that during the spring semester a campus-wide marketing audit will be conducted in order to better understand what marketing initiatives are already in place throughout the units.
- Externally, best practices will be studied from Rollins' peer and aspirant schools.
- President Duncan mentioned that it is essential that the marketing initiative be led by a vice-presidential level person because of its strategic nature within the institution, importance of assuring a seat at executive committee meetings along with the other VPs, and need for high external and internal profile for the initiative.
- Ralph Drtina asked what we might expect to see early as a result of this initiative. Greg Marshall stated that Rollins should notice a drive toward gaining more recognition outside the Central Florida community. He mentioned that this eventually should greatly enhance Crummer's full-time recruiting efforts out-of-state.

- Allen Kupetz asked if there would be any opportunities to tie domestic practica projects to the marketing initiative. Greg Marshall said that internships for full-time students, practica, and GA positions were all possibilities in terms of Crummer involvement.

Greg Marshall was awarded his chair medal for the Charles Harwood Chair
