OPENING DOORS TO THE FUTURE

Thankfully for Rollins College, the ideal of personalized, innovative education has persuaded many people to support the institution financially. This special Honor Roll of Donors is dedicated to the thousands of individuals and organizations who, through their generosity, have opened doors for untold numbers of Rollins students.

As you will see from the profiles contained herein, donors contribute to the College for a wide variety of motivations. Some have attended Rollins and feel a responsibility to “give something back”; some have children who attend; others have no direct connection but see in Rollins the opportunity to support a worthy endeavor. The result is that the future of the College is secured by providing opportunities today.

These are exciting times to be at Rollins. The campus is undergoing unprecedented growth, enrollment is at record numbers, and news organizations such as U.S. News & World Report continue to rank Rollins as one of “America’s Best Colleges.” Thanks to the generous support of alumni and friends, Rollins continues to be a college “On The Move,” opening new doors to a world of opportunities for students.

1997-98 HONOR ROLL OF DONORS

OPENING DOORS
TO THE FUTURE

ROLLINS COLLEGE

THE PRESIDENT
1000 Holt Avenue - 2711
Winter Park, FL 32789-4499
(407) 646-2120 • FAX (407) 646-1501

Dear Rollins Donors:

Congratulations on another record-breaking year! Thanks to your generosity, private support to Rollins College reached an all-time high in academic year 1997-98, with gifts totaling $12,639,353. When I wrote to you last year about the giving records set in 1996-97, I could not have imagined that the following year would bring an additional 20-percent increase in giving to the College.

The sustained support of our alumni and friends was especially significant during this past fiscal year, the second year of our ambitious $100-million Campaign For Rollins. I am delighted to report that as of May 31, 1998, just nineteen months into the campaign, commitments totaled $80.95 million. Alumni will be proud to note that their support represents 39 percent of this amount.

Annual unrestricted giving to The Rollins Fund continues to be of critical importance to the College during this period of accelerated growth. Even as we are securing funds for Rollins' future, the day-to-day operating expenses must be met and we count on The Rollins Fund to help us balance our budget. In 1997-98, our alumni, parents, friends, and the corporate and foundation communities contributed a record $1,916,579 to The Rollins Fund, and we are indeed grateful.

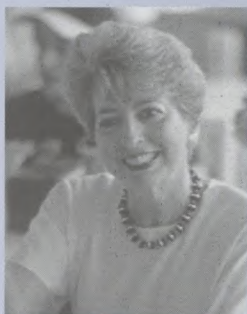

I also want to extend my heartfelt thanks to outgoing Rollins Fund Co-Chairs Frank '52 and Daryl Stamm Barker '53, and to Parents Committee Co-Chairs Tom '70 and Ruth Lawrence duPont '70. Your leadership has been tremendous, and we stand in your debt.

As donors to Rollins College, your support is valued and you can take pride in the fact that you are doing your part to ensure a bright future for this very special institution.

Sincerely,

Rita Bornstein, Ph.D.
President

A Word From Frank '52 and Daryl Stamm Barker '53

National Co-Chairs of The Rollins Fund

Leading Rollins' annual giving campaign has been an immensely gratifying experience for us and has reminded us that time really does fly when you are having fun. The time has now come for us to bid you farewell as national co-chairs of The Rollins Fund, and we do so more convinced than ever that Rollins' supporters are the most loyal and dedicated around.

When the 1997-98 fiscal year began, we faced a formidable task: to raise $1.9 million in unrestricted gifts to The Rollins Fund. Thanks to the overwhelming generosity of more than 3,400 Rollins alumni, parents, and friends, we exceeded our goal, raising $1.916 million for The Rollins Fund this past year, a new all-time high!

After four consecutive years of $1-million-plus giving to The Rollins Fund, we challenged alumni in 1997-98 to reach the next benchmark giving level of $1.1 million. Because of the extraordinary generosity and unabashed enthusiasm of the more than 2,700 alumni who responded to our challenge, we not only met but surpassed our $1.1 million alumni giving goal.

We are also happy to report that, while alumni participation in The Rollins Fund reached only 25 percent in 1997-98, down from 28 percent in 1996-97, overall alumni participation in The Campaign For Rollins remained steady at 32 percent. We salute the wonderful alumni donors and volunteers who gave so selflessly of their time and financial resources this past year.

Parent giving to The Rollins Fund also soared to dizzying heights in 1997-98. All totaled, 534 current and former Rollins parents contributed an astounding $278,692 in unrestricted gifts to the College, an increase of nearly $24,000 compared with 1996-97 and more than $45,000 over their goal! A heartfelt thanks to the hundreds of parent volunteers and donors whose support has helped to further the educational mission of the College.

We are especially grateful to Tom '70 and Ruth Lawrence duPont '70, whose spirited leadership of the Parents Committee during the past three years has made the Parents Campaign at Rollins the envy of other private liberal arts colleges. Fortunately, two able and committed leaders are succeeding the duPonts this year—Sid and Irene Ritman (Jim '98 and Cathy '01). The Ritmans have been active members of the Parents Committee since 1995, and Sid has recently been elected to the College's Board of Trustees.

We are also delighted to welcome Rollins alumna T. Grey Squires '85 as the new national chair of The Rollins Fund. Elected this past May to her second three-year term on the Alumni Association Board of Directors, Grey served as vice chair of The Rollins Fund this past year and has been fund raising for Rollins since 1993. As we launch what promises to be the most challenging annual giving campaign ever in 1998-99, Rollins is fortunate to have such an ardent advocate and dedicated volunteer at the helm of The Rollins Fund.

Thank you again for the opportunity to serve you and Rollins as national co-chairs of The Rollins Fund. Your generous support has been an inspiration to us, reminding us of the reasons we cherish our Rollins experience and value our place in the Rollins Family.

Every year the College makes a special appeal to alumni celebrating Reunion to show their appreciation for their Rollins experience by participating in The Rollins Fund. It comes as no surprise that alumni who turned out in record numbers for Reunion Weekend this year also contributed significantly to this year's record-breaking Rollins Fund campaign.

When the bells of Knowles Chapel tolled the beginning of Reunion Weekend this past March, the Classes of 1933 and 1938 were leading the race for the Class Participation Award, with the Class of 1943 nipping at their heels. As May 31 approached, however, the Class of 1938 rallied past their competitors to capture the prize. Hats off to Malcolm Whitelaw '38, whose enthusiastic calling and letter-writing campaign inspired 55 percent of his classmates to give to The Rollins Fund this year, thus sealing an impressive victory for the 60th Reunion Class.

During Reunion Weekend, the Class of 1968 towered over all others in the competition for the Class Gift Award and seemed destined to see their class year engraved on the silver award cup. By year's end, however, the 25th Reunion Class of 1973 had overtaken their rivals, winning the right to be immortalized on the Class Gift Award trophy for 1997-98 with a remarkable gift of $108,430. Kudos to volunteers Pamela Dixon Harris '68 and Sam Crosby '73 for their successful efforts to enlist their classmates' support of The Rollins Fund this year.

With the help of class agent Brad Partridge '83, the Class of 1983 built a commanding lead by Reunion Weekend in the competition for the Young Alumni Class Award, and only tightened their grip on first place in the weeks that followed. This year's winners of the award, Brad and his classmates celebrated their 15th Reunion with both the largest class gift and the highest participation rate of the three youngest reunion classes.

Sincerest thanks to the many wonderful alumni volunteers and donors whose dedication and generosity helped ensure the success of this year's Rollins Fund campaign and made Reunion '98 so unforgettable.

SUE ROZIER MACDONALD '54

When it comes to supporting education, Sue Rozier MacDonald says, "What else could be more important?" A generous supporter of Rollins as well as her husband's and daughter's schools, the Missouri native found in Rollins just what she was looking for in a small liberal arts school. "It was just right for me," she said.

As president of Kappa Kappa Gamma, a member of the chapel choir, and a participant in intramural sports, MacDonald made the most of her college days, graduating in 1954 with a degree in education.

After Rollins, MacDonald moved to Washington, D.C., where she worked as a research analyst for the Central Intelligence Agency. While in Washington, she met her husband, a foreign service officer. MacDonald spent the next ten years living and teaching English as a foreign language in Germany, Afghanistan, and Turkey.

After raising her daughter, MacDonald returned to teaching English as a foreign language in Chevy Chase, MD. In more recent years, MacDonald has concentrated her efforts in charity work, serving on the board of Children's Hospital, co-chairing the Washington Antique Show, and serving on the Women's Committee at the Washington National Cathedral.

MacDonald believes that Rollins has become an even better school over the years. "For someone who wants what

I did, I don't know how you could do much better than Rollins," she said. —RHC

STUART C. MILLER

Some donors did not attend Rollins, don't send children there, but still see Rollins as a worthy cause that provides valuable tax benefits. Such is the case with Stuart Miller, a 1931 graduate of the University of Oklahoma. He came of age at the dawn of the Great Depression in the heart of the "Dust Bowl," and his strategy for survival was saving every dollar possible.

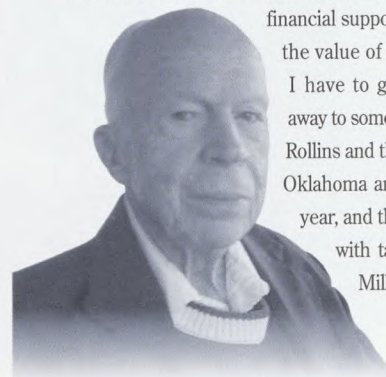

"I've always saved and invested my money," he said. "I worked in the oil fields of East Texas out of college, making $125 a month to start, but shortly thereafter they cut my pay to $89 a month. I still bought 11 shares of U.S. Steel, of which the oil company I worked for was a subsidiary. Most of the guys would get paid on Friday, go into town, and be broke by Monday. Then they'd borrow money from me until Friday."

Miller went on to become a civil engineer for the Naval Department, designing torpedoes and torpedo tubes during World War II. He continued to invest his money, and accumulated a sizable fortune by the time he arrived in Florida in 1975.

He became interested in Rollins College after working with College representatives. Miller particularly enjoyed the Cornell Fine Arts Museum and for several years tried his hand at painting watercolor landscapes, portraits, and still lifes. Now living at the Mayflower in Winter Park, he still gets over to the Cornell on occasion, has lunch with President Bornstein, and attends the annual Donor Dinner.

With no family left and his college roommates recently deceased, Rollins seems the worthiest recipient of his financial support. "I believe in the value of education, and I have to give my money away to someone. I give both Rollins and the University of Oklahoma an annuity every year, and that provides me with tax advantages," Miller said. —BD

BIRGIT SCHAEEL AND SON RAINER '99

Rainer Schaeel '99

Although she modestly calls herself "a little fish in the school of donors," Birgit Schaeel's faith in the value of "giving back" shines like a beacon. She and her son Rainer give a few hundred dollars every year to Rollins, and plan to continue after Rainer graduates in 1999. "We have always taught our children never to return an empty plate, and when Rainer applied to Rollins, they offered us a plateful! I couldn't look school administrators in the face if I didn't say 'thank you,' even if in a small way.

And we'll keep saying it long after Rainer has graduated."

Birgit Schaeel grew up in Hamburg, Germany before coming to America in 1960. She had to work to support the family after her father died, so she never got the opportunity to attend college. She and her husband Frederick, however, made sure their children got a private high school education in the Miami area (where they settled in 1973) and a private college education. Rainer is a senior environmental studies and accounting major. Accompanying her first check, on January 31, 1996, Birgit wrote to Mr. and Mrs. Tom duPont, then co-chairs of the Rollins Fund Parents Committee: "We appreciate how much Rainer has matured in this short period of time under the tutelage of the Rollins faculty. As parents, it is a delight to see how well he is responding to the curriculum, his professors, and the positive student environment."

Every month, Birgit sends a check to both Rollins and Rainer's high school, Ransom Everglades, and each year at Thanksgiving her son and daughter also contribute to both schools from their own funds. "We owe it to these institutions for the valuable gift they give to us, and it's a lifetime commitment," Birgit said. "My son gets financial aid, which opens up so many opportunities. I have always felt, and have taught the kids, that if someone gives you something, you give back." —BD

SHARON SIEGENER '66

For Sharon Siegener '66, alumni giving approaches the status of a sacred obligation. "For an institution that has given us the tools that we now use today in our lives and businesses, I believe it is our responsibility to acknowledge these gifts, both tangible and intangible, with gifts of our own, whether money or volunteer time."

An English and French major at Rollins, Siegener was accused by her mother of arranging her academic schedule around intramural sports, beach outings, and grove parties. But membership in Kappa Kappa Gamma helped her maintain her grade requirements and enhanced her personal life, and Siegener flourished in the intimate classroom setting at Rollins. She has had a varied career since graduating, working in insurance, clothing, and the oil industry. She started her own business, Unicorn Oil, in the early 1980s after moving to Sedan, Kansas in 1979.

Siegener was "pulled" into the Alumni Council in 1986 by former classmate and fellow Kappa Suzy Probasco Geisler '68, serving until 1989. She traveled to several cities to start up alumni clubs during her tenure.

Siegener is a strong proponent of giving unrestricted gifts and planned estate giving. "In my first years out of College, I gave mostly restricted gifts to women's athletics, because that was nearest and dearest to my heart," she said. "After I worked on the Alumni Council and served on the Board of Trustees, however, I realized how important it was to give unrestricted gifts, because that's what turns the lights on in the classrooms. Ever since then, I have always given my annual gift and will give restricted funds only above and beyond that."

Of planned estate giving, she enthused: "I can't say enough about the Rollins Pooled Income Fund. It's truly a win-win situation. I can put my stocks that aren't paying a lot of dividends into the fund, knowing that I will receive both tax benefits and regular income, while at the same time ensuring that the College has a firm gift and commitment from my estate." —BD

MARK AND JOANN SKOUSEN '88

Mark and Joann Skousen '88 fund students' educational experience in a direct and personal way: they sponsor individual scholarship students. For the past decade, they have provided scholarship funds to one or two students a year who study economics in the Hamilton Holt School.

A former Holt School student, Joann Skousen loved the Holt School experience—"especially the quality of discussion and that my classmates had a lot of life experience. They made the decision to go back to school and made many sacrifices to do it. In addition, Rollins is more a teaching school than a research school; the faculty here mostly talk about their students rather than their projects."

She is now enjoying the "other side" as an adjunct professor in the English Department. Husband Mark, an internationally renowned expert in investment, is an adjunct professor in the Economics Department.

Rollins annually hosts two dinners that provide scholarship recipients the opportunity to meet the donors who have helped make their education possible. "Some people sponsor one or two students; one man has a whole table of students, yet no one is made to feel better or worse than the others," Joann said.

"We like donating to a specific student because it's so much more personal and we can see the fruits of our donation," she continued. "Some of the sponsored students have taken Mark's classes. One woman last year, a student from Finland, told me that when she felt tired or discouraged in her studies, she saw my face, not just some faceless rich person who gave money. It gives extra incentive to give when you are able to get to know the beneficiary." —BD

MR. AND MRS. PETER LORD

Many parents are involved in their children's education. A few, like Peter and Lyn Lord, take that involvement into the college years, giving their time and money to the institution their child attends. For the Lords, daughter Marjorie "Jorrie" '00 represents their strongest connection to Rollins and their primary motivation for serving on the College's Parents Committee. However, they have another powerful connection: Peter's cousin is Rollins graduate and longtime benefactor David Lord '69.

Lyn Lord contributes her energies to many charitable activities near her home in the Boston area, so it is not surprising that when David asked her and her husband to get involved with the Rollins Parents Committee, she said they'd be delighted.

"We have been very pleased with Rollins and Jorrie's experience there," she said. "The school is able to bring an unusual level of excitement to education. Jorrie went to college with the potential to go either way, but her freshman year she got actively engaged in every class she took. The small classes really gave her an opportunity to get individual attention and take part in the learning experience." Jorrie is also very active in the NCM sorority and is a member of the Greek Council.

The Lords are no strangers to the most rarified groves of academe, Peter having attended Princeton and Lyn having been a member of the first class of women at Yale. For their daughter, Rollins has been the perfect choice and has given her an opportunity to flourish she may not have had at other schools. The Lords express their gratitude and appreciation by supporting the College financially and, as members of the Parents Committee, by asking other parents and alumni to do the same. —BD

SARAH CASTLE MACLEOD '91

Sarah Castle MacLeod '91 has reached a watershed in her life, shifting from the work world to motherhood. But it's not the first. After leaving Rollins, MacLeod went to work for the Bureau of Public Works in Georgia, where she worked with water quality issues for the city of Atlanta while pursuing a master of science degree at Georgia Tech.

Her job dealt with water quality on all levels, from watershed management and in-stream testing to treatment plant upgrades. An environmental science major with a concentration in chemistry, MacLeod credits her Rollins education with allowing her to handle the rigors of real-world environmental engineering.

"I did more lab work and research in my classes at Rollins than during my entire career at Georgia Tech. I would have expected it to be the reverse, considering the nature of graduate work."

For this reason, MacLeod has endowed a summer research program for student/faculty collaborative research. "I think students should be able to utilize the outstanding facilities and research opportunities during the summer, rather than solely during the school year. I wanted to endow a fund to provide stipends, so that students could collaborate with faculty on research rather than worry about making ends meet."

Still, MacLeod realizes that the College, too, must make ends meet and remains committed to unrestricted annual giving, as well. "It wasn't just the research and the classes that I benefited from, but the whole Rollins experience." —SLB

JAMES M. SENEFF, JR.

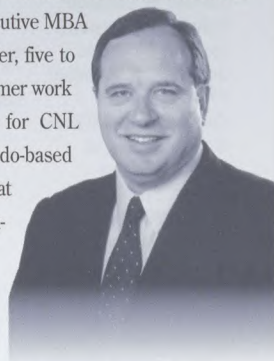

Jim Seneff's generous financial contributions to the Crummer Graduate School of Business at Rollins are amply repaid by the flow of business talent he receives from the school's Executive MBA Program. Each summer, five to ten interns from Crummer work on research projects for CNL Group, Inc., an Orlando-based real estate company that finances and builds commercial buildings.

Seneff served on Crummer's Corporate Council in the past and is now on the Board of Overseers, and the Crummer School could hardly ask for a more dedicated ambassador. "Our company's philosophy is that we give where we are involved—not only money, but time," he said.

Crummer students interested in real estate, conversely, could hardly ask for a better internship opportunity. CNL Group, for which Seneff is the CEO, provides real estate services in several niche businesses: hospitality, hotels, health care, corporate facilities, retail, restaurant, and financial services. The summer interns, he said, do research projects for these niches and provide the results to the presidents of each group. "They get to meet many people in the company and we have hired a lot of graduates as a result of their internship experience," Seneff said. "They've always done a great job for us."

Seneff has a very personal connection to Rollins College. His son Tim recently received his MBA from Crummer, and Tim's wife, Michelle, earned a master's degree in education from the Holt School. The couple was married in the Knowles Memorial Chapel.

"We believe the school benefits not only the community, but companies like CNL that are looking for qualified young folks to work for them," Seneff said. "That's why we feel so good about giving to Rollins." —BD

VICTOR '73 AND JACKIE SCHUTTLEWORTH ZOLLO '73

For Victor and Jackie Schuttleworth Zollo, supporting Rollins is a way of giving back to the alma mater they credit with having given them so much, including their introduction to each other.

Victor began his college career at the University of Vermont on a football scholarship while also playing baseball. In the middle of his junior year, when the school decided to drop baseball, a senior scout from the Boston Red Sox recommended Rollins.

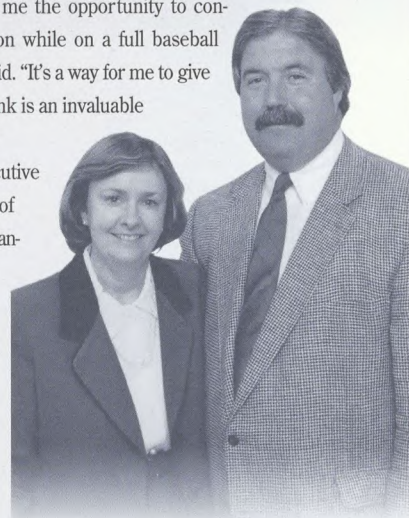

"In large part, I am active and supportive of the College, and will remain so, because Rollins and Coach Boyd Coffie gave me the opportunity to conclude my education while on a full baseball scholarship," he said. "It's a way for me to give back for what I think is an invaluable asset: my degree."

A former executive vice president of SunBank Capital Management, Zollo and his partners started DePrince, Race & Zollo, Inc. in 1995. Ranked as one of the top money management firms in the nation, the company manages more than $2 billion in institutional assets. A past chairman of Arnold Palmer's Bay Hill/Nestle Invitational Golf Classic, Zollo also has chaired the Rollins College Team Golf Tournament and the Rollins Sports Hall of Fame selection committee.

A biology major, Jackie Zollo taught anatomy and physiology at the high school level and worked for the American Heart Association until their daughter, Maddy, was born in 1987.

"It is an important and worthy goal," she said, "to support Rollins in its continued pursuit of excellence in academics, athletics, and all facets of college life." —RHC

YOUNG ALUMNI: CLASSES OF 1988-1997 SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF

Participation in The Rollins Fund is possibly the greatest expression of appreciation Rollins could receive from its most recent graduates. Many of the College's young alumni are working on graduate degrees, are just beginning to establish themselves in their careers, or are starting families of their own. At this stage of their lives, allocating resources to their alma mater is often difficult. For this reason, the College is especially grateful for the support it receives from young alumni, and those who participate in The Rollins Fund can be proud of their important contribution to Rollins' continued excellence.

Considering that the Class of 1999 will be the 110th class to graduate from Rollins, it is hard to imagine that alumni from the last ten classes make up more than 30 percent of all Rollins alumni. Because of their large numbers, young alumni have a significant impact on overall alumni participation in The Rollins Fund. As a result, their unrestricted gifts are critical to College's ability to secure funding from corporate and foundation sources, recruit talented students and faculty, and stay atop the national rankings, all of which increases the value of a Rollins degree.

Under the leadership of Rebecca Nannen '93, chair of the 1997-98 Young Alumni Campaign, 490 alumni from the classes of 1988-1997 contributed $33,160 to The Rollins Fund this past year. The Class of 1990 had the highest level of participation with 17 percent, and finished the year tied with the Class of 1991 for the highest number of donors, as 65 alumni in both classes gave to the Rollins Fund.

First place for the largest gift goes to the Class of 1988 whose 38 donors contributed a total of $7,400 to The Rollins Fund. Special thanks to class agents Chris Cogan '88, Gena Collis '88, Dan Garrison '88, and Chris Swann '88, whose hard work and commitment helped to make the 1988 class gift number one!

Thank you to all the young alumni donors and volunteers whose participation made the 1997-98 Rollins Fund campaign a success. We could not have done it without you!

LARRY '93 AND SARA HILL WALSH '92

Strong believers in their alma mater, Larry '93 and Sara Walsh '92 have been contributing to The Rollins Fund regularly since they graduated. Both psychology majors, the Walshes were active in Greek life on campus, Larry in the Phi Delta Theta fraternity and Sara in the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. In fact, Larry recalls, it was through his work with the InterFraternity Council (IFC) that he first learned of the importance of annual unrestricted giving to the College.

"The year that I was president of IFC, we sponsored phonathons to raise money for The Rollins Fund," Larry explained. "I realized that so many of the campus resources we all used as students were paid for, in part, with gifts from alumni to The Rollins Fund. I decided that when I graduated, I would support The Rollins Fund so that students who followed me could have access to the resources that were available to me."

Rollins sweethearts who married and settled in Pittsburgh after Larry's graduation, the Walshes credit Rollins for preparing them to succeed in their professional lives. The founder of Walsh Properties, an investment properties company he opened in 1993, Larry cites the small classes as a particularly valuable component of his Rollins education. "The experience of being in classes with only a handful of other students and with professors who expected thoughtful answers to their questions gave me the confidence I needed to start my own company," he said.

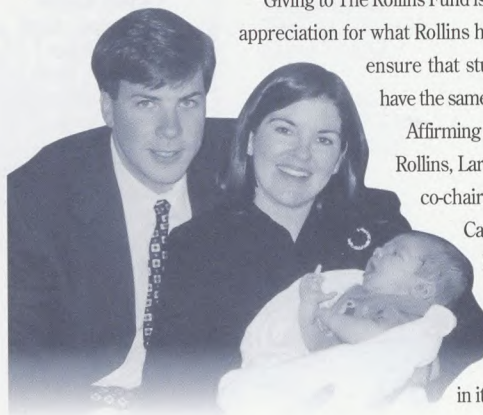

Sara agrees that Rollins' challenging curriculum and a demanding faculty combined to give her a solid foundation for furthering her education and launching her career. "My professors made us work hard and pushed us to explore our ideas to their fullest. After four years at Rollins, I found I was well prepared for the rigors of graduate study," she said. Sara completed a master's degree in counseling at the University of Pittsburgh in 1995 and now works as a counselor for the Peters Township School District in Pittsburgh.

Rollins brought Larry and Sara together, and this past April, they celebrated the birth of their son, Lawrence Henry Walsh, Jr. While the Walshes certainly have very special reasons to be thankful for their Rollins experience, Sara believes all alumni have good reason to give to The Rollins Fund. "Anyone who has ever attended Rollins takes away something of value," she said.

"Giving to The Rollins Fund is a great way of showing our appreciation for what Rollins has given us and helping to ensure that students who come after us have the same great experience we did."

Affirming their strong commitment to Rollins, Larry and Sara have agreed to co-chair this year's Young Alumni Campaign for The Rollins Fund.

In addition, Sara is volunteering her time as one of the founding members of the Young Alumni Council, now in its first year at Rollins. —AN

ROLLINS COLLEGE

Excellence is so often the result of a group of individuals working toward a common goal. During the past decade, Rollins College has significantly enhanced its national reputation for excellence. That fact was reflected this past September by U.S. News & World Report, which for the fourth consecutive year ranked Rollins as the second best regional university in the South, and number one in Florida.

Quality students. Scholarly and caring faculty. Innovative programs and first-class facilities. With the financial support of friends like you, Rollins College is, indeed, On The Move.
