

Alex Candage, 2020

Alex, 20, is a first-generation college student and English major in preparation for a career in publishing. Alex was Editor-in-Chief of The Independent for its Spring 2018 issue and has held leadership positions in several clubs, including co-founding Disability Alliance.

Alex is honored to be spending zir senior year as Editor-in-Chief of Rollins' student newspaper, The Sandspur. As a demisexual, biromantic, nonbinary individual with disabilities, Alex is excited to promote diversity and accessibility in all that ze does. Alex would like to thank zir professors for their continued support and advice. Ze also thanks zir friends, who have become zir chosen family.

Siobhan Nolet, 21, is a Senior and double major in English and American Studies. Aside from being Co-Editor-in-Chief of Brushing, she is also a Copy Editor for The Sandspur and a member of the Upsilon Beta chapter of Chi Omega at Rollins.

After graduation in May of 2019, Siobhan will travel to Vietnam to participate in a three-week field study and then return home to northern New Jersey. She wants to practice law in the future, hopefully focusing on social justice and public interest.

Anastasia Rooke, 2019

Head of Design

Anastasia Rooke, 22, is a studio art major from Greenville, South Carolina. Brushing is the first publication that Anastasia has designed; however, working in a digital medium within her own practice, she often finds subject matter ranging from ethics, sustainability, and fashion. On campus, she is involved with The Sandspur as a page designer and graphic illustrator and a member the Upsilon Beta chapter of Chi Omega. When Anastasia is not in the studio, she enjoys playing with her border collie, Sylver, and attending local art events. Upon graduation, she will be moving to Washington D.C., continuing to work in graphic design.
