MAY, 1960

VOL. XXXVII

ALUMNI WELCOME THE CLASS OF 1960

Led by the Chapel Choir the colorful academic procession files down the center of the Horseshoe and crosses Holt Avenue to Knowles Memorial Chapel for the 1960 Commencement Exercises.

FIELD HOUSE

Henry S. Lauterbach '37, National Chairman of the Field House project, announces that the vast amount of preliminary work necessary for such an undertaking is well underway and definite dates for the campaign will be announced soon.

Class representatives are being contacted to carry the program to classmates. He says: "The interest and enthusiasm being shown by the members of the different classes is most gratifying."

Joe Justice '40, and Athletic Director at Rollins has volunteered his services as field representative and plans are being made for him to visit as many areas as possible during the summer vacation period. Joe sends this message: "Like Dean Enyart, I'll be around to tap you on the shoulder. The Field House is the most pressing need for the Campus right now. It is essential to the whole athletic and physical education program at Rollins."

TAX FREE

We have received final notification from the Internal Revenue Department that all contributions made to Rollins Alumni Inc., are income tax deductible as provided by section 170 of the 1954 code. One hundred twenty-two new names were added to the list of Rollins graduates when the class of 1960 received their degrees in Knowles Memorial Chapel Friday, June 3, at the seventy-first graduation ceremony. For the first time Masters degrees were conferred on four graduate students in business administration.

There were 103 who received Bachelor of Arts degrees, 14 receiving Bachelor of Science degrees, one Bachelor of Music in addition to the four receiving their Masters.

Always colorful the academic procession headed by the Chapel Choir formed on Holt Avenue beginning at Carnegie, followed the Horseshoe to the flagpole then north to the Chapel entrance.

Dr. Filmer S. C. Northrop, visiting professor of philosophy, was the commencement speaker and the subject of his address was "Instruments and Ideals".

President Hugh F. McKean singled out the students for their academic and character achievements and bestowed special honors on commencement speaker Dr. F. S. C. Northrop of the Yale Law School, and Edward A. Wagner and Frederic Q. Boyer of Winter Park.

Graduating at the head of her class of 118, Miss Phyllis Jean Zatlin of St. Petersburg, Fla., received her language degree "With Highest Distinction." Miss Marilyn Dupres of Sarasota, Fla., received her degree in economics "With High Distinction." Garrett John Crotty of Winter Park, Fla., graduated

ADVANCED STUDY

A healthy percentage of the members of the class of 1960 will enter graduate schools throughout the country this fall. A survey of the class indicated that at least 28 have made definite plans and nine of this number have won either assistantships or fellowships in their field. Major study fields include law, agriculture, publishing, medicine, engineering, geology, political sciences, divinity, education, astronomy, language, library sciences, chemistry and architecture.

with a B.S. degree in pre-medical studies "With Distinction."

The Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion was bestowed on Margaret Carmichael of Jackson Heights, N. Y., and James Patrick Lyden of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., and Winter Park.

The General Reeve Scholarship, awarded to the five students maintaining the highest scholastic average for their last three years at Rollins, was given to Miss Zatlin, Miss Dupres, Miss Carmichael, Phillip Scott of Pueblo, Colo., and Gordon Struble of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Dr. Northrop, leading systematic philosopher, received the honored Hamilton Holt Medal for his recognized leadership and vision in the world of international law and philosophy.

Boyer, a well-known Central Florida engineer, author, and cartographer, and Wagner, a pioneer in the field of electrical engineering, received the Rollins Decoration of Honor.

HONOR GRADUATE

Phyllis Zatlin was graduated from Rollins "with Highest Distinction" with the class of 1960. Former editor of the Sandspur and an active participant in student affairs, Phyllis was one of two winners of the Woodrow Wilson graduate fellowships and a Fulbright scholarship at Grenoble, France.

RESEARCH GRANT

The National Science Foundation has granted Rollins $2,865 to participate in an undergraduate research program. Under the direction of Dr. John S. Ross, associate professor of physics, senior class majors will help conduct a research project already in progress in the physics laboratory, investigating the experimental value of isotope shifts in the spectra of elements of intermediate atomic numbers. Rollins undergraduates have worked on the Rollins project since its beginning in 1955. Dr. Ross plans to spend some time this summer at Georgetown University attending the national conference on advances in astro-geophysics which is sponsored by the NSF.

FRESHMAN CLINIC

A nine point study clinic, designed to prepare freshmen for college-level work will be inaugurated at Rollins this fall. The clinic will be conducted by faculty members and will be held a week previous to the opening of college October 3. The program has been designed to improve the study habits of new students and will be under the direction of Dean Schiller Scroggs.

CREW STATE CHAMPS

The Rollins oarsmen closed the season by winning the Florida state championship and the consolation at the Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia. The varsity lost only one race during the season to LaSalle and the JVs recorded seven wins and no losses. The JVs came in first at Philadelphia.

MUTISPAUGH HONORED

Harold Mutispaugh, who came to the Campus nearly 30 years ago as bookkeeper and who now is purchasing agent for the College, was honored by the graduating class this year when they dedicated the 1960 Tomokan to him. The editors said in part: "We hardly ever see him, yet the evidence of his presence can be found everywhere on the Rollins Campus. It is with a sincere feeling of pleasure and a great deal of pride that we dedicate the 1960 Tomokan to Mr. Harold Mutispaugh."

ALUMNI WORKSHOP, SEMINARS

The Workshop held on Saturday morning of Reunion Weekend was divided into three sections. Discussion revolved around 1—Admissions, Present and Future Picture; 2—Alumni Activities; 3—the proposed Field House. Some interesting points were developed, and, for the benefit of the participants and those Alums unable to be present, we present the following report:

Admissions, Present and Future Picture

Admissions Director Jack Rich, Assistant Malcolm Scott, and Dean Schiller Scroggs presented an optimistic picture of next year's Freshman Class. In regard to the long-range view, some basic problems were raised, and Alum-

ALUMNI TRUSTEE

Frank L. Williamson, '48, has been nominated by Rollins Alumni as one of their representatives on the Board of Trustees of Rollins College. He is President and General Manager, Holloway Materials Corporation; President of the Commercial Bank at Winter Park; Director of the Winter Park Telephone Company. He recently was an honored guest at the 48th annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington, D. C., where he received a National Award "For outstanding achievement in developing among employees a better understanding of business and the American Economic System."

He says: "I sincerely thank the Alumni for selecting me to represent them on the Board of Trustees of Rollins College. I shall do everything in my power to make a greater Rollins and I urge all my fellow Alumni to participate actively in all our programs." Please write your suggestions to: F. L. Williamson, P. O. Drawer 1347, Winter Park, Florida.

ni understanding and support was solicited toward solutions. Three general problem areas are: 1—How can we acquaint able students with the unique educational opportunities to be obtained at Rollins? 2—How can we help the able student who is not in a financial position to attend Rollins? 3—How can we solve the particular problem of attracting an optimum number of able men students?

Discussion developed some answers in broad areas. 1—Rollins should continue and expand its efforts to work closely with guidance officers and high school principals in Florida and elsewhere, emphasizing the special advantages the College has to offer their able students. 2—The trend toward a "package scholarship" plan looks promising. Such a "package" might include a cash stipend, work opportunity, and a loan under provisions of the National Defense Education Act. 3—The coordinated plans with other Institutions (we now have nine such arrangements) are a compelling reason for men students to consider taking their initial work at Rollins, in the sciences, business and professions. For many students the small-campus, individualized approach can be a great attraction, particularly when they understand that this work can lead to a degree from both Rollins and Universities such as Duke, Dartmouth, MIT, Georgetown, Tulane, etc.

Alumni Activities

This group had some recommendations, falling into the following areas: Publications should be coordinated to prevent duplication of material sent to Alumni. They would like to see articles in the Alumni Record featuring, and perhaps written by, professors on the campus, telling of outstanding work in their field—also articles and feature stories on outstanding Alumni. They felt this could become a useful tool in recruiting students for the College. They felt that class notes are important and should not be dropped, but that assistant class secretaries living in the Central Florida Area might be designated, and perhaps some of the inactive class secretaries be relieved of the job.

Local Alumni groups need not be formally organized but it is very desirable to have some key contact people who are willing to assume responsibility for getting alumni of the area together when a special project or meeting is necessary in the interest of the College.

Plans for a Field House

Discussion developed agreement on four points: 1—All liberal arts colleges should have such facilities as will be offered by the new building and there is a real need at Rollins for it. The project was wholeheartedly endorsed as a worthwhile one for the alumni.

2—The lakefront potentialities have not been developed. Water sports are an asset and we should develop the lakefront and water sports, in combination with the fieldhouse. It might be possible to build it over the water so that the boathouse could be below the main building.

3—The fieldhouse should be primarily for the use of students and planned with this in mind. Spectator sports and use by the public for other than college events should be secondary.

4—A swimming pool on campus is desirable and consideration should be given to including it in the original plan of the fieldhouse and site, even though its construction might have to wait for a later date.

"An interpretation of present-day Rollins, and an outline of curriculum developments," was the theme of the Saturday afternoon seminars.

Dean Schiller Scroggs discussed the importance of a sound liberal arts foundation in preparation for professional careers. He described the co-operative programs between Rollins

First Graduating Class

In the spring of 1890 Dr. Edwin Payson Hooker, first president of Rollins College, conferred the first collegiate and nine outstanding universities, under which a qualified student may attend Rollins for three years, then enter the professional school of the university and earn his bachelors degree from Rollins at the end of the first year of professional study.

Changes and the unchanging in the program of the English department were described by Mrs. Nina Oliver Dean, Associate Professor of English, and Chairman of the department. Mrs. Dean described the new freshman English course in composition and literature. An interesting feature of the course is the emphasis in the spring term on the student's demonstrating what he has learned by writing a substantial research paper.

Dr. Dan A. Thomas, Professor of Physics, described developments in Rollins' science departments. Outstanding work is being done by students in all departments in the science division, and a high proportion of the graduates in these areas continue in graduate study, many with highly desirable fellowships and scholarships.

degrees upon two women students. One of them was Miss Ida Missildine, who lives in Kirkwood, Missouri. For 41 years she was organist in the First Presbyterian Church there and also taught organ and piano.

Born in Missouri she moved with her parents, Alfred H. and Anna Stuart Missildine, to North Carolina where her father was a Congregational minister. When Rollins College was opened he decided to send her to Winter Park and she was present on the opening day of the College.

She writes: "Besides my five years at Rollins, with whatever study of music Rollins offered in those long gone years, I had two years in the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston and one year in Berlin under the tutelage of Herr Professor Klindworth, besides 'coaching' at various times in various cities."

A charter student and member of the first graduating class of Rollins College, Miss Missildine has always held a deep love for Rollins and has visited the Campus frequently. She was guest of honor at the Alumni Reunion weekend in 1957.

Miss Clara Louise Guild, deceased, was the other member of the first graduating class.

Dr. Dudley E. DeGroot, Assistant Professor of Sociology, discussed the programs in the social science fields. He stated that he has found many of the students at Rollins superior in their ability to do independent study. He also described the "Senior Course" under the direction of Dr. Wendell Stone and Dean Theodore Darrah, in which selected seniors have an opportunity to bring together ideas from many fields of knowledge and to develop their individual philosophies.

The area course in Latin American Studies, directed by Dr. A. J. Hanna, with a staff of faculty members, was described by Richard S. Wolfe, Assistant Professor of Mathematics, and Registrar. This is a three term course emphasizing an understanding of the economic, political, and social problems of the Latin American countries through a study of their history and development, geography, and culture.

Mr. Wolfe served as chairman of the seminar.

CLASSIFIED INFORMATION

'08 Margaret Burleigh Vaughn is spending some time with her sister, Frances Burleigh Fernald x11 in West Newton, Mass., during the illness of Mr. Fernald. Frances has 27 grandchildren, all living within 75 miles, so they have many visitors.

Margaret Woodruff Mandis (Mrs. Demos) says she has 7 grandchildren and is "just a busy grandmother." She is also interested in Church (Episcopal), D.A.R. and American Legion Auxiliary activities. Margaret still lives at Avon Park, Fla.

Friends of Andy Ahik and his sister, Elsie Ahik Peral, will be sorry to hear of the death of their brother, Carl G. Ahik, which occurred at his home in Winter Park on May 8.

SECOND GENERATION GRADUATES AT COMMENCEMENT

'23 SECRETARY: Ray Greene, 242 Chase Ave., Winter Park, Fla.

Rosa Brooks Hopson (Mrs. E. H.) recently returned from a Winter in Italy. Six weeks in Florence, a month in Sicily, a visit to Naples, etc. Rosa also sends a new address at Box 3101, Savannah, Ga.

Charlie Ward, news editor of the Miami Herald, left early in May to fly to Paris for 2 weeks as a guest of the Renault company and the French Government, and also saw a French liner launched while there. In April Charlie was a guest speaker at the weekly Cafezinho at the Casa Iberia on campus, when he reviewed Tad Szulc's "Twilight of the Tyrants".

'24 SECRETARY: Helen Waterhouse, P.O. Box 24, Maitland, Fla.

Lavonne LaDue Lashar sends a new address at Box 127, Mt. Dora, Fla. Lavonne is a broker with the LaDue-Lashar Realty Co. there, handling real estate and insurance.

'25 SECRETARY: Trillis Wesseler Windom (Mrs. William H.), 341 Holt Ave., Winter Park, Fla.

Those of you who missed the reunion this year really missed something, although the picnic and dance suffered somewhat because of the weather. The picnic had to be held in the College Dining Hall, but the fellowship was good and everyone seemed to have a wonderful time. The reunion dinner brought a few more of our group together, and it was a gay crowd. Jean (Wagner) and Earle Shannon entertained the '20-'30 group at a reunion party after the dinner, including Bert Pheil Bobbitt, Edna Wallace Johnston, Horace and Nan Draa, Betty (Dickinson) and Harry Kelly, Eva (Thompson) and Bob Carson, Dickie (Dickson) Colado, Trixie (Larsen) Vincent, Ray and Billie (Freeman) Greene, Warren Ingram and your secretary. Letters were read from Ruth Amy Sebring and Edwina Parkinson, and we spent the evening reminiscing and catching up on news. Don Vincent was on the West Coast and Guy Colado missed the reunion because he was in Miami attending the Florida Educational Association Convention and the State and National conventions of Health, Physical Education and Recreation Associations. Guy is the new Vice President Elect of the Florida Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and has been a State Director representing District 7 for twelve years. The Shannons were wonderful hosts, and we all express our appreciation to them. Do plan to come for reunion weekend next year.

'28 Florence McKay Nichol (Mrs. John) is an "A Plus" teacher, according to a feature article in a Miami paper. A teacher at Citrus Grove Junior High, Florence was chosen Florida's outstanding teacher of the year and presented an "Oscar" at the Florida Federation of Women's Clubs convention "Honor Bright Awards" Luncheon on April 27, attended by 1,000 people. The Federation contest is promoted by the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Florence now becomes a candidate for the National "Oscar for Teachers Award" to be presented by the General Federation of Women's Clubs at the national convention in Washington, D. C. The unanimous choice was made by the judges because of her work as an educator, her contributions to the citizenship of the foreign-born, her success in cutting down illiteracy, and her great contribution to Inter-American understanding. Last year she received a Freedom's Foundation award as an outstanding teacher.

'30 SECRETARY: Clara Adolfs, Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida.

We all missed Sarah Huey Lewis at our class reunion, but she was unable to leave home at this time. Her sixteen-year-old had an accident with a shotgun and injured his hands, and although they are healing satisfactorily he still needed Sarah's care. Sarah herself is beginning her fifth and last year on the Bessemer Board of Education, and is secretary-treasurer of the Bessemer Improvement Association, an organization of merchants and property owners.

Not being able to attend our Class Reunion in April, the following were with us in spirit we felt for they did write:

Frances Porter Williams couldn't find anyone to ride down with her, but is hoping to bring her daughter down one of these days soon to see if she would change her mind and come to Rollins when she finishes high school. Frances has moved into a new home, and her address is now: 2147 Roswell Avenue, Charlotte, North Carolina.

A promotion for Cloyd Russell necessitated his going to Washington, D. C. He was appointed to Program Planning for the Food & Drug Administration. Ruth went house hunting and thinks they will be living in Vienna, Virginia. We all enjoyed looking over the old snapshots which they sent and had fun trying to call off the names.

Lib and Chet Ihrig's hopes and plans did not work out so they could not be on Campus, but they sent greetings along with their regrets. Virginia Stelle did the same.

Helen Massey McIntosh visited us in January so did not make it back again. Besides, she is taking courses in English and History in her hometown college, and did not feel that she could cut classes.

Greetings and news also came from Ruby Quick White. Her oldest son teaches history in high school; daughter, Ellen, has two sons of whom Ruby is very proud; and the younger son is a junior at Cornell. Both boys starred in swimming. Ruby and Perry keep busy, so busy in fact that at times she treats herself to a lazy day at home.

Margaret Brown Woore has continued working at Biscayne Engineering Co. (17 years), but on weekends sees her grandchildren and goes boating with her husband who is Secretary of Biscayne Bay Yacht Club.

Duty prevented Mazzie Wilson from being with us. She wrote that she would probably feel a real stranger, which she never thought would happen. It would not have, Mazzie, after the first few minutes!

Wish it were possible to reproduce the Ozzie Harris' family pictures of 1949 and '59, and to tell what all eight of them (including the dog) are doing. One is teaching, one is a junior at Michigan State; Janie was president of her freshman class and ranked top scholastically; Betsy paints, embroiders, etc., while Buster is still taking things apart. Amidst all the excitement Murph and Ozzie (or Dick) are holding up fairly well and are never bored!

Frane Thomas brought us up to date with all her doings as a Florida teacher, Government worker in Washington, D. C., earning a law degree at George Washington University and now is an attorney for Transportation in the Office of General Counsel.

Dot Minter wrote that when she thought of a thirtieth reunion she did not know whether to bow to the mirror with veneration or jump up and sing again! She, Mazzie Wilson and Virginia Fisher Zimmerman had a little reunion all their own sometime back.

Below is a new address for Ethel Hahn Comfort. Her family will probably be missing the North Carolina mountains this summer in order to get moved and to let the two girls earn some money; 1226 Alberca Way, Coral Gables.

Although Harrison Cobb could not be with us he sent a memento for each one present. As he was most generous, there were enough of the Sweetwater agates in a bed of sagebrush, to send to each of those who sent messages. And his essay on "The Aroma of the West" is a masterpiece which we all enjoyed reading.

'32 SECRETARY: Lucille Tolson Moore, (Mrs. Wm. S.) 4555 S.W. 2nd St., Miami 44, Florida.

Fred Welling, who is Florida representative of Adelphia Specialty Co., paid a recent visit to the campus. We're sorry to hear that he lost his father, Mr. Schubert S. Welling, last year.

'33 SECRETARY: Thelma VanBuskirk Douglass (Mrs. Henry) 2646 Fairway Ave., S., St. Petersburg, Fla.

Laura Windsor Mills (Mrs. Albert) continues her interest in the theatre and last fall appeared in "The Man Who Came to Dinner" which was produced at the professional theatre, The North Jersey Playhouse, in Fort Lee, N. J.

Louise Brett Seabury (Mrs. Richard) sends interesting news of her family. Son Richard graduated from the Cornell Graduate School of Business Administration in June, and daughter Priscilla from Wellesley College. Priscilla was elected to Phi Beta Kappa and also won two national fellowship awards for the next two years, Fulbright and Woodrow Wilson. She plans to continue her studies in Germany next year. Brett finished at Morristown Preparatory School, where he was top of the senior class as well as head of student government, and has been accepted for entrance to Wesleyan University, Connecticut, next fall. David is an undergraduate at Morristown. Louise herself keeps busy with many civic activities, including president of the Montville Township League of Women Voters, and member of the trustee boards of Morris County Family Service, Community Chest and local Library.
