Drama at Rollins

MANY students attending Rollins have enjoyed the work of the Rollins Student Players either by actively participating in the plays or as a spectator. Because of the outstanding work being done in this department of Rollins we are happy to present this article.

The Rollins Student Players are extremely fortunate in having the beautiful and completely equipped Annie Russell Theatre in which to produce their plays. It, in itself, is an inspiration to the undergraduates. Following the dedication of the theatre in 1932, Miss Russell served as artistic consultant until her death in 1936. The same high standard of work has prevailed in the productions presented during the following years.

A year ago the Fred Stone Laboratory Theatre was erected with funds which the Student Players raised from the production of "Lightnin'", starring Fred Stone, supported by members of the Rollins Student Players. This Laboratory Theatre is directly across the street from the Annie Russell Theatre. All dramatic classes are taught in this building. This "workshop" has ample space — a prime requisite for a theatre. One room is used for the storing of costumes. Scene design is taught in another room, voice instruction and make-up are taught in the other first floor rooms. Adjacent to the stage is a large workshop in which the scenery is constructed and painted. Ample storage space has been planned for scenery and properties. Next to the workshop is a tool and paint supply room. There are two rooms on the second floor that are used as offices for Professors Allen and Bailey.

The preliminary rehearsals for all major productions are held in the Laboratory Theatre. Ten days before the opening of the plays, settings, actors, stage crew and directors move over to the Annie Russell Theatre to polish the production.

It may prove of interest to many to know just what courses are offered for a major in Dramatic Art.

Required courses: Speech and The Speech Arts — fundamental principles of speech; development of breath control, voice placement, articulation, posture, bodily action, and practice in their application; with a study of interpretative reading, story telling, original speech and dramatics; theory and practice in simple direct public speaking; speech material and composition. Fundamentals of Stage Speech — a practical course planned to give the student an opportunity to study the technique and delivery of effective stage speech emphasizing: (a) speech-projection, (b) sustaining the speech-thought, (c) accepted pronunciation, (d) clear articulation and enunciation, and (e) variety and shading in dramatic speech. History of the Theatre and Acting — a fundamental course designed to give the student an historical approach to all work in dramatic art. The study of the various styles of acting is integrated with the important periods in theatrical history. A study of the development of stagecraft and scene design from the ancient Greek to the contemporary theatre is also included. Elementary Acting — a laboratory course planned to give the student an opportunity to study the fundamental principles of acting. This is a required course for majors, but may be elected by non-major students. Production Technique — a practical course in which the technical aspects of play production are taught. The student receives instruction in (a) the elementary principles of scene design, (b) the construction and painting of scenery, and (c) back-stage organization. Three terms of this course are required of majors in dramatic art. Principles of Stage Lighting — theory and practice in the fundamental principles of stage lighting. Instruction is given in electrical currents, use of lighting equipment, and the making of light plots.

There are three dramatic organizations on the Rollins campus. The Freshman Players is an organization for first year students who are interested in dramatics. Membership is based on ability and willingness to work. Members of this group are entitled to try out for parts in the major productions given by the Rollins Student Players.

The Rollins Student Players is an honorary organization composed of students who have done outstanding work in dramatics at Rollins. The purpose of this organization is to present a varied program of worthwhile plays having literary and dramatic merits and providing fine entertainment. A point system for work accomplished in acting and stagecraft has been established as a basis for membership.

The Florida Gamma Chapter of Theta Alpha Phi, national honorary dramatic fraternity, was installed at Rollins in 1938. Membership is conferred upon Upper Division students who have done superior work in dramatics.

Rollins is particularly fortunate in having Donald S. Allen and Howard Bailey as Directors of the Rollins Little Theatre. Professor Allen has directed student dramatic activities at Rollins for the past six years and was closely associated with Miss Annie Russell at the time she served as director of the Rollins Theatre which bears her name. He studied at Ohio Wesleyan University where he received both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees. He had practical experience in directing, acting and scene construction at the famous Cleveland Play House as well as at Ohio Wesleyan.

Professor Bailey is a graduate of the University of North Carolina where he had extensive experience in acting and directing the North Carolina Playmakers' productions. He has also organized and directed several little theatres in various parts of the country. Mr. Bailey has acted in various Broadway plays. During the summer he is the Associate Director of Paul Breen's "Lost Colony" production at Roanoke Island, North Carolina.

The student wishing to major in Dramatic Art has many advantages at Rollins. Many famous playwrights

George Waddell

Alumni Field Representative

LATE in October George Waddell, Class of 1938, of Greenfield, Ohio, was appointed Alumni Field Representative of the Rollins Alumni Association. Mr. Waddell's work will be primarily with the Alumni Clubs throughout the country and with the Placement Service.

It has long been felt that the Alumni Association needed the services of someone who could spend a great deal of time working directly with the organized groups of alumni in various parts of the country — to be a direct contact between College and Alumni. At the present time there are seventeen organized Clubs, but there are many other towns and cities where there are a sufficient number of alumni to form an active group. George will assist in the organization of these groups.

These groups of alumni may be of untold service to Rollins. In order that these objectives might be discussed and plans for George's work with the Clubs might be discussed and planned, "Red" Winderweedle, chairman of the Alumni Council, called together representatives of each of the organized Clubs and asked them to meet on the Rollins campus for a two day conference with George Waddell, officers of the Alumni Association and officials of the College.

This conference was called on November 1 and was opened with a luncheon in the "Beanery" at which time Mrs. Marian Van Buren Cleveland was introduced as the new Dean of Women and George Waddell was introduced as the Field Representative. Prexy welcomed the representatives with reminiscences of each one.

During the afternoon session many opinions were expressed and suggestions made that a more or less concrete program could be offered at the Saturday morning session which was presented by Lottie Turner Cook, '32, chairman of a committee appointed for that purpose at the close of the Friday afternoon session. Consensus of opinions was that for the successful Alumni interest a common purpose relating directly to Rollins welfare was necessary. That only by such activities, it was believed, will the interest of all alumni be drawn to the several clubs and their Alma Mater.

A motion was made by Les Taylor, '27, and seconded by Becky Caldwell, '25, that "Each Club assist in the selection of as many full paying students as possible and to take as their objective the securing of at least two full paying students each year; secondly, that the case of any prospective student requiring scholarship aid be taken up by the Clubs individually, realizing that the College is glad to cooperate with the Club to the fullest extent."

A motion was made by Les Taylor, '27, and seconded by Billy Mulligan Stoner, '27, that "Each Club have a committee of one or more for publicity and public relations to cooperate with the College and to be a medium through which the College may work in their particular area."

A motion made by Lloyd Towle, '32, which was heartily seconded by everyone present that the College be commended for appointing an Alumni Field Representative to promote a closer bond between College and Alumni and to commend it for its choice of the man chosen and to assure him of their wholehearted cooperation and support in his work.

The conference closed with the attendance at the Rollins-Appalachian football game held at Tinker Field and which ended 30-0 in Rollins favor.

A number of local members of the Alumni Council attended the Conference; but because of lack of space their names are not listed. The following out-of-town representatives from the various Clubs attended:

Helen Steinmetz, '04, Philadelphia, Pa. (Council); Katherine Slemons Marks (Mrs. Richard) '98, Jacksonville, Fla.; Rebecca Caldwell, '25, Lake Wales, Fla. (Council); Bertha Phiel Bobbitt (Mrs. Pearson) '25, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Eva Thompson, '26, Philadelphia, Pa.; Billy Mulligan Stoner (Mrs. Joseph) '27, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Leslie I. Taylor, '27, Hartford, Conn.; Lloyd Towle, '32, Miami, Fla.; Lottie Turner Cook (Mrs. A. Clinton) '32, Washington, D. C.; Emily Bookwalter, '33, Springfield, O.; Edith Stephan, '36, Cleveland, O.; Jean Astrup Faubel (Mrs. Eugene) '36, Cleveland, O.; Marita Stueve, '38, New York City; William Scheu, '39, Atlanta, Ga.; Jean Densmore, '40, Boston, Mass.

A member of the 1938 graduating class, George Waddell was prominent in campus affairs throughout his college career, serving as president of the student body in his senior year. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary activities fraternity, Zeta Alpha Epsilon, honorary science fraternity, Rollins Key Society, Phi Society, "R" Club and Phi Delta Theta fraternity. He

Rollins—S. I. A. A. Champions

IN THE season's final game, a star-studded band of Rollins Tars rose to smashing offensive heights to smother Stetson, 34-0, under a six touchdown barrage and thereby nail the SIAA flag to the masthead. For the first time in Rollins history, a Tar team finished in the driver's seat of the 32 team conference, the largest numerically in the land.

In many ways the 1940 Rollins season was the most outstanding in the school's football annals. The Tars lost one game to Davidson, 19-7, so they did not complete an undefeated season, but they did just about everything else. Besides winning the SIAA season with 6 victories, they beat the University of Miami Hurricanes, 7-0, in the Orange Bowl, the first time that a Rollins team ever won in Miami. The Tars handed Stetson its most lopsided trouncing since the teams resumed relations. The Tars finished on top in the state race with five wins, and in June Lingerfelt they produced a really great end who is seriously being considered for Little All-American honors. The Rollins team won eight of nine games and scored 235 points to 44 for their opponents, and they completed a three year record of winning 22 games and losing 3.

When the season began prospects appeared none too good. Jack McDowall's forces had lost Joe Justice, All-SIAA climax runner, and nine other seniors, but Coach McDowall whipped the team into an offensive unit that had precision, power, deception, and speed to burn. The Tars were adjudged to be one of the headiest and best drilled teams in the state.

Western Carolina Teachers was the first opposition and Rollins taught them a football lesson to the tune of 53-0. Then came Davison, a Southern Conference opponent, and the Tars, over-anxious, were sucked out of position so that two long runs beat them.

Presbyterian went down, 20-7, and then the Tars proved that they could come from behind as they toppled Stetson, 25-12, in their first game after trailing, 12-6, at the first quarter. Tampa fell, 39-0, and Appalachian was beaten, 30-0, in spite of the presence of a Little All-American center in the line-up.

And then came the all-important Miami game. Miami, an SIAA also, had to be defeated if Rollins was to win the conference crown. The Hurricanes, facing a back-bending schedule listing games with Catholic U., Texas Tech, Florida, S. Carolina, Mississippi, and Georgia, were inclined to regard Rollins lightly, while the Tars were "pointing" for this game, in order to show Miami fans, who had never seen Rollins win, that the Tars really had a football team.

Approximately 16,000 people had pushed their way into the beautiful Orange Bowl stadium as Rollins kicked off to Miami. After several punt exchanges, the Tars began a drive from their own 24 yard line that did not stop until the ball rested safely in the end zone. A 22 yard forward lateral from Sam Hardman to June Lingerfelt that put the ball on the one yard line featured the march. Jones bucked over and Brankert added the point that beat Miami, 7-0.

A few minutes later, Lingerfelt blocked a punt on the Miami 23 and Rolins pushed to a first down on the 4 yard line, but the Tars couldn't carry the ball across. During the last half, Miami took the play away from Rollins, and gained considerably in mid-field, but the Hurricanes could do nothing against the rugged Tar line when they approached scoring territory.

The victory assured Rollins the SIAA title which they clinched by scoring repeat victories over Tampa and Stetson.

Nine starting seniors and two varsity reserves will be lost to Jack McDowall by graduation, leaving a gaping hole to be filled by reserves and members of the promising freshman aggregation.

Among the seniors who bid farewell to collegiate football after three years of brilliant play are: June Lingerfelt, end and Clyde Jones, spinner-back, from Asheville, N. C.; Curry Brady and Joe Knowles, ends, and Lou Bethea, wing-back, from Leesburg; Carl Sedlmayr, end, Miami; Mel Clanton, tackle, Lakeland; Mannie Brankert, back, Winter Garden; Sam Hardman, back, Laddonia, Missouri; Chapman Lawton, guard, Orlando; and John Giantonio, center, Cleveland, Ohio.

Lou Bethea, 195 pound backfield star and the team's high scorer, and Mel Clanton, 205 pound, six foot, three inch tackle, were offered tryouts by the Detroit Lions professional team.

Sam Hardman, a hipper-dipper scat-back scaling 155 pounds finally lived up to promises he exhibited as a

FLASH

As this goes to press, the news has just been received that June Lingerfelt, greatest end in Rollins history, has been selected on the first string Little All-American team picked by the Associated Press. This is the first time that any Rollins player has made this team, and the first time, in fact, that any Florida gridder has been thus recognized. The Little All-American team is composed of the cream of the small college players in the nation. For June, who closed three years of 60 minute football with a brilliant game against Stetson, Little All-American honors climax a stellar career in which he also was selected as All-North Carolina end in high school and twice was chosen on the All-Florida collegiate team.

Mel Clanton, 210-pound senior tackle won honorable mention for Little All-American.

sophomore. An All-Southern back with Landon High in Jacksonville, Harmdan was injured in the first game of the season against Stetson as a junior and did not see action until the final game of the year, also against Stetson. This year he ran Davidson, Miami and other big teams crazy and climaxed his career by scoring three touchdowns against Stetson on a 40 yard punt return and two passes which covered 38 and 20 yards for his scores. Hardman also developed as a passing threat himself and his passes, especially to Lingerfelt, were a constant threat to the opposition. He was named on the Orlando Sentinel All-State Team.

Of Lingerfelt there is little to be said except that he ranks as the greatest end in Rollins history — even greater than such notables as Tom Powell and Dan Contini, because of his brilliance as a pass catcher. In three years of football, he never dropped a pass that he could get his hands upon. He was outstanding on defense, won the squad's blocking trophy last year, and this season called signals and was field captain as well. An All-North Carolina high school end, he was All-Florida last year and is a sure repeater with prospects bright that he will be Little All-American. If Lingerfelt makes this team, he will be the first Rollins player in history to gain this honor.

The freshman team this year was the strongest in Rollins history. They beat Stetson, Tampa, and Miami, the latter defeated Florida, and were well on their way to a state championship when Stetson beat them in a return game. Over-confidence played a large part in the upset. As a result the Rollins frosh and Miami frosh tied for the state title.

Scat-backs are plentiful in the freshman bunch. McDowall is partial to the small, fast runners, and has had remarkable success in developing fleet-footed phantoms like Will Rogers, George Miller, Joe Justice, and Sam Hardman. Tops in the freshman group are Sammy Pugh, of Lake Wales, Quentin Bittle of Haines City, and Dave Frazier of Landon High, Jacksonville, Monroe Griffin of Fletcher High, Jacksonville Beach, and Freddy Caldwell of Orlando supply the backfield power.

The freshman line is light, but hard-charging and in relieving next year's varsity men will be doubly effective. Outstanding men are Ralph Chisholm of St. Cloud and Red Harris of Clearwater, ends; Gus Koulouris and Trammell Whittle, tackles, Pershing Scott, guard, and Ronnie Green of Gainesville, center. The starting freshman team this year listed an All-Florida line-up.

Outstanding varsity men who will be back again next year include "Shorty" Phillips, 235 pound tackle from Leesburg, and Frank Grundler, All-State guard from Orlando, who were the only juniors in the first string. Paul Meredith, clever blocking back, saw a lot of action and "Rabbit" Curry, 150 pounds of speed, turned in two long touchdown runs in the Appalachian game and missed a third against Stetson by half a yard. Bill Justice, third brother to attend Rollins, has demonstrated a lot of drive and is a good passer. Grady Ray runs hard and tackles savagely. These men will form the nucleus for a very presentable team, but it is doubtful if they will have the experience and polish necessary to duplicate this year's record. But the same thing was said last year. Jack McDowall has performed miracles in the past, perhaps he can again.

Jack McDowall Honored

Climaxing a testimonial dinner honoring the Rollins Tars, Coach Jack McDowall, dean of Florida's grid mentors, was presented an engraved silver plate and 12 silver cups in appreciation of his outstanding services to Rollins. June Lingerfelt, senior Little All-American end, made the presentation.

On each cup was the date of a year, one of the 12 years in which McDowall has guided the destinies of the Tars, while on the plate were inscribed the words: "To our coach, Jack McDowall, from his 1940 squad, his former players, and the Monday morning quarterbacks".

Line coach Alex Waite was presented a watch by John Giantonio, graduating senior, and Red Miller, trainer, was given a fountain pen by Joe Justice, All-SIAA back of last year, who spoke briefly for the alumni that have played under McDowall. Former football players under McDowall, Rollins' faculty and staff, and friends, contributed to the funds for all the gifts.

First speaker of the evening was Dr. Hamilton Holt,

The Alumni Library

THE Alumni Library has received a valuable addition to its shelves of eight new volumes.

Dr. Helen Wieand Cole, Professor of Latin and Greek at Rollins from 1928 to 1930, and since 1930, special lecturer during the Winter Term each year at Rollins, has presented autographed copies of her four books.

"Spring Moods and Faces" is a delightful little book of verse written by Dr. Cole and published by Sherman, French and Company of Boston, in 1914. Another volume of poems, "Music and Memory", was published by the Gorham Press in 1919. In 1920, Dr. Cole published "Deception in Pautus", a study in the technique of Roman comedy. It gives concisely and clearly an analysis of the plots of the comedies of Plautus and a resume of the problems connected with the composition of those plays. Her latest book "Many Voices", is a collection of poems published by Henry Harrison of New York in 1938.

"Bird Voices" and "Bird Songs", two interesting volumes of poems have been presented to the Alumni Library by William Bacon Evans, '29, and published in Moorestown, N. J., this year.

"Our Times — What Has the Bible to Say?" by Dwight Bradley, '11, Executive Director, Council for Social Action of the Congregational and Christian Churches. The little volume is written as a guide for group study or for the individual reader. Dr. Bradley shows how one may build anew a theology, a social philosophy and an understanding of the laws of psychology which give meaning and purpose to life and religion in times like these.

Also — a copy of YANKEE magazine containing the story "Homesteading in Florida with Grandma", by Grace E. Abbott (to Rollins people — Evelyn Haynes of the Class of '22) has been sent in. This is the story of Evelyn's experience accompanying "Grandma", beloved early teacher of Rollins, Caroline Hills Abbott, to Merritts Island where Mrs. Abbott had taken up a homestead. This was back in 1919, when the Government opened up the Island to homesteaders and before modern roads or any other modern conveniences had come to the island. It is an interesting and fascinating story and one of interest to many Rollins alumni.

Two autographed pamphlets have also been added to the Alumni Library — "Born of Freedom — To Die of Taxation?", by Treasurer Ervin T. Brown and "Health and Physical Education at Rollins", by Dr. Thurston Adams.

Mrs. Grace Livingston Hill, former instructor in Physical Education at Rollins, is the author of a new volume just published by the J. P. Lippincott Company, of Philadelphia, which she has autographed and presented to the Alumni Library. "Partners" is a fascinat-

Rollins Club of Jacksonville Invades Sanctuary

ON AN April day in 1562 Jean Ribaut, the adventurous Huguenot, arrived at the mouth of the St. Johns River and anchored his three vessels before Fort George Island. A few days later Ribaut landed and kneeling on the broad sandy beach, thanked God for a safe passage thereby offering what is said to be the first Protestant prayer on Florida soil.

Jean Ribaut was the first of a long list of adventurous invaders who during nearly four hundred years have left their footprints on the Golden Islands of the Georgia and Florida coast. The Island has enjoyed an exciting and tragic history involving such famous names as Menendez, Philip II, Queen Elizabeth, Catherine de Medici, Sir Francis Drake, Oglethorpe and scores of devoted Catholic priests to say nothing of the Seminole and Yamacsee Indians.

On Saturday, November 23, 1940, another and quite different group of "invaders" led by President Holt journeyed an hour's drive from Jacksonville to claim in the name of Rollins College the beautiful tract of approximately one hundred acres recently presented to Rollins by Mrs. Millar Wilson of Jacksonville. Mrs. Wilson, herself, welcomed the "invaders" among whom were Dr. Edwin Grover, Mr. E. T. Brown, Mrs. R. J. Lehman, Alumni Secretary, George Waddell, newly appointed Alumni Field Representative and many alumni and friends from the Jacksonville Club.

In addition to presenting Rollins with this historic tract as a memorial to her father, John F. Rollins, who for many years owned the entire Island, Mrs. Wilson reserved for herself the pleasant privilege of developing it. She has already constructed a comfortable log cabin

Mrs. Hanna Passes Away

Mrs. Josiah C. Hanna, who had made her home in Winter Park during the past eight years, passed away on October 12. Two of her children, Mrs. J. Sherman Moore (Helen Hanna), of the Class of 1924, and Professor A. J. Hanna of the Class of 1917, were graduates of Rollins and two grandchildren, Mrs. Forest Caldwell (Geraldine McGregor), of the Class of 1939, and Joe D. Hanna of the Class of 1940. Another grandchild, Mary Margaret McGregor, is now a sophomore in Rollins.

Summer in Chile

(In the September issue of the Alumni Record we were privileged to run an article by Marolyn Mackemer concerning her year in South America following her graduation from Rollins in 1939. In this issue she takes us to Chile where she attended the "Summer School" of the University of Chile in January. Pictures accompanying the article were taken by Marolyn). Editor's note.

SANTIAGO is a quaint little city of palms and plazas, set deep in a bowl of snow-capped mountains. In its very center rise two picturesque mounts, Cerro Santa Lucia and Cerro San Cristobal.

Santa Lucia is the historic knob of land around which Valdivia founded the city in 1541, and upon which still stands the fort where his little band often had to take refuge against the fierce Aurucanian Indians. Now it is a fascinating park, with shady trees and myriads of footpaths winding upward, where students study for the streets, but this year the new Popular Front Government allows them to stay and beg, for there is nothing else to do with them. One day about 6:00 A. M., as we were on our way to the early morning auction at the central market we ran across a heap of boys between ten and twelve years old lying curled up beside and on top of each other, plus a few mongrels, on the stone bank of the canalled Maipu River which runs through the city. Our guide informed us that they lived there, eating what they could forage after the market closed. Chile does have homes for children such as these, but if they run away, no one bothers to bring them back to an already-overcrowded institution. But with all her poverty she will welcome you with open arms, and her people finals, or where others gather in the heat of the day to talk over the problems of the government.

To reach the top of San Cristobal you must take a funicular train. A short walk through terraces of flowers and trees brings you to the very peak, where a huge marble Madonna watches over the city. Nearby is a small chapel covered with vines, where Mass is held every Sunday morning.

Most of the streets are narrow and one-way. Along the sidewalks fruit venders display their produce — the fresh figs and peaches were the largest and best I had ever tasted! We bought fresh flowers every day in the huge outdoor market for a few pennies.

Chile is a poor country, and her streets are filled with beggars of all ages, who catch at your dress or sing out pitifully for alms. Last year they were driven off and actors visit Rollins during the year and the students have the opportunity of meeting these people; Rollins has an outstanding faculty in English, Art, Music and Drama departments; they have contacts available through the College with movies, New York producers and outstanding Little Theatre organizations and Summer Stock companies.

During the past summer six Rollins under-graduates spent their vacations in various summer theatre groups throughout the country. From all reports they feel that working under the rather strained conditions of summer theatres was an experience that would be difficult to get anywhere else.

Paul Haley, a sophomore and pre-med. major, was at the Barter Theatre in Abingdon, Virginia. Paul learned theatre in all its phases. The Barter Theatre is unique in that produce is accepted at the box-office for admission to the performances. Paul acted as assistant stage manager for several productions, acted bit parts, worked on building, property, and costume crews, and did practically everything else around the theatre. Each week the company would go on tour to small towns in the state usually returning to Abingdon each night after the play was over, unless the town was over two hundred miles away. The company would usually arrive at home about two or three o'clock in the morning and start a new day five hours later.

Deedee Hoenig, who has just played on Broadway in a new comedy, "Glamour Preferred", and Patty Pritchard were at the Bandbox Theatre in Suffield, Connecticut. Deedee had been at this theatre for several summers, but this was Patty's first season. Patty was chosen by the staff of the theatre as the best apprentice and was asked to return next year as a member of the company.

Don Murphy was a member of the student group at the Alexander Kirkland Theatre which Mr. Kirkland just opened this year. Don played several minor parts and one of the leading roles in "Little Women" with Frances Farmer. The Kirkland Theatre has the star system under which guest stars appear with the company each week during the season. Grace George, Ethel Barrymore, Irene Castle, and Frances Farmer were among those who appeared.

Eugenie Van de Water was at the Woodstock Theatre in Woodstock, New York, for her second season. She, like Paul Haley, learned about different phases of the theatre, in addition to acting. Virginia Kingsbury, '40, was also at the Woodstock Theatre for several weeks and appeared with Sinclair Lewis in "Shadow and Substance."

Jack Buckwalter took a summer theatre repertory course offered through Western Reserve University at Cain Park Theatre in Cleveland Heights, Ohio. Cain Park is the only municipally owned outdoor theatre in America. The seating capacity is 3200 which is quite different from that of the Annie Russell Theatre. The stage is 80 feet wide and a light curtain is used. Jack directed two one-act plays for the Adult School of the Theatre at Cain Park, learned the business side of summer theatres, and acted in two of the plays that were given.

and garage, a drilled well to take the place of an ancient well which supplied water for the early settlers, many winding trails and an appropriate gateway with a sign reading, "The John F. Rollins Bird and Plant Sanctuary, the Property of Rollins College, Winter Park, Florida."

After a picnic luncheon which was served around the out-door fireplace, Mrs. Wilson told some interesting anecdotes of her father and of her own girlhood on the Island, Mrs. Carita Doggett Corse spoke of the fascinating history of Fort George Island and Dr. Grover told of some of the hopes that Mrs. Wilson has for the use of the Sanctuary by Rollins. After these talks the "Rollins invaders" hit the trails thru the heavily wooded tract where one sees beautiful old oaks with limbs spreading for a hundred feet and covered with air plants, orchids, ferns and fungi producing a jungle effect of surpassing interest and beauty.

Mrs. Wilson's gift will be increasingly valuable to the botanical and biological departments of Rollins and the cabin and other improvements which Mrs. Wilson is installing, will make it possible for Rollins students to spend several days at a time studying the varied and unusual flora of the Sanctuary.

It is also hoped that it will serve as an annual meeting place for not only Rollins alumni in the Jacksonville area, but alumni from all over the State.

was also a member of the Rollins varsity crew for three years and the holder of the Rollins semi-centennial honor scholarship. Since his graduation he has been associated with his father in the manufacturing business in Greenfield, Ohio.

Mr. Waddell has already begun his work with the Clubs having left the campus on November 30. During this initial trip George is meeting with the Boards of Directors of the various Clubs and calling on alumni.

president of Rollins, who presented the team with the Brown Jug, which the Tars won by defeating Miami. W. E. Winderweede of Winter Park spoke for the alumni before McDowall's time.

Dean Arthur D. Enyart, Master of Ceremonies, gave the main address eulogizing McDowall as a man, coach, and teacher, and pointing out the tremendous strides that Rollins has made in the football world while at the same time scheduling colleges in its own class.

do their utmost to make the stranger feel at home.

Christmas was a combination of our Fourth of July and New Year's Eve, and the streets were crowded until far into the morning. The Chilean government provided a splendid show of fireworks, and the civic bands were out in full array, while groups of people everywhere were dancing the "cueca".

We spent New Year's Eve in Vina del Mar, a summer resort two hours away on the coast, which is often called the "Riviera" of South America. We were having dinner in a popular boat-restaurant jutting out into the sea when the clock struck midnight. To our surprise, there was no noise or blowing of horns, and there was no "Auld Lang Syne"; instead, the orchestra broke into the Chilean national anthem, and everyone stood silently until it's finish.

During January we went to summer school at the University of Chile. Our classes were veritable Pan American conferences, for there were at least ten different American nations represented in each one. School life was informal, and what gay times we "foreign students" had together!

Chilean women have a great deal more freedom than most of their Southern American sisters, and Santiago even had a woman mayor. Girls wait on table in the restaurants, which is unheard of in Argentina, and the three universities have as many women enrolled in their courses as they have men.

Chile's iron ore and coal deposits equip her excellently for industrialization, but she needs capital to develop it. One of her worst enemies is the wine for which Chile is so famous. It is cheaper than bread or milk, and the poor man spends his meager week's earnings to "forget his misery".

Nevertheless, the Chilean people are the most hospitable in the world, and we were all sorry when the time came to say good-bye to Santiago and turn southward toward the lakes and mountains.

The famous lake region in the south of Chile and Argentina has often been compared to the Swiss lakes for its beauty. Each lake is a different hue of green or blue, and the high, snow-capped mountains are reflected in the clear water beneath. The only civilization throughout the region are small picturesque chalets where the tourist may stop over for a day or more, to enjoy the beauties of the towering mountains, a dip in the icy water, a horseback ride to a hidden waterfall, or perhaps a cast for the plentiful trout in nearby streams.

After two glorious weeks in this fairyland, we boarded the train for the last lap over the hot and dusty Argentine pampas to Buenos Aires, our minds secretly forming plans to return in the winter for skiing!

A Very Merry Christmas and a
Happy New Year

ALUMNI DAY

A gala program is being planned by special committees in Winter Park for your entertainment on Alumni Day of Founders Week, February 22.

The main feature of the day will be the 43rd annual Alumni Luncheon-meeting held in the College Commons. A detailed announcement and program will be sent out later — BUT remember the date and make your plans now to be present. Write Rollins classmates and friends to join you on the Rollins campus for that week-end.

campus November 1 and 2. Bert represented the St. Petersburg Club along with Billy Mulligan Stoner.

Rec Caldwell attended the Alumni Conference also as a member of the Council.

Class of 1926

Secretary: Catherine Young Gore, (Mrs. Warren), Oviedo, Fla. Nineteenth Reunion in 1945.

Mr. and Mrs. Robley C. Williams (Margery Ufford), are announcing the birth of a son, Robley Cook, Jr., on October 15th at their home in Ann Arbor, Michigan, where Mr. Williams is connected with the Department of Astronomy at the University.

Eura Lee Durrance is teaching English in one of the Jacksonville, Fla., High Schools.

Class of 1927

Secretary: Jeannette Dickson Colado, (Mrs. Guy), Winter Park, Fla. Seventh Reunion in 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Woodward, (Beatrice Jones), are announcing the birth of a daughter, Susan Elizabeth, in October, 1940, in Los Angeles.

Les Taylor and Billy Mulligan Stoner were back on the campus from Hartford, Conn. and St. Petersburg, Fla., respectively, to attend the Alumni Conference on Clubs, November 1 and 2.

Class of 1928

Secretary: Carter Bradford, Box 1470, Orlando Florida. Sixteenth Reunion in 1944.

Cleveland van Dresser is the author of a very interesting article recently appearing in AMERICAN WILDLIFE, entitled "Last Haven" and dealing with the bird preserve located in the Florida Everglades.

Barbara Sheffield has forsaken the sunny climes of California to accept a position on the teaching staff of the Kent Place School in Summit, N. J.

Alice Hegan Rice, who received a Hon. Litt. D. in 1928, has just completed "The Inky Way", published by D. Appleton-Century Company of New York. Mrs. Rice will be remembered as the author of "The Cabbage Patch", fame and this latest book is her autobiography. It is unassuming and winning in its simplicity and charm. Its childhood memories are of old-fashioned country holidays and city life in Louisville. A reviewer in the New York Times Book Review section says:

"Work and travel, friendship and a happy marriage, fame accepted unpretentiously, a charming American background—Alice Hegan Rice has brought them to us in the lovable ledger of her own years."

C. Maxwell Green is the proud father of a daughter, Martha Nell, born in Winter Park on December 5. Max is a Lieutenant in the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Base in Cuba.

And that makes it Aunt Isabel for Isabel Green.

Class of 1929

Secretary: Nancy Brown, 645 Putman Ave., Orlando, Fla. Fifteenth Reunion in 1944.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernhard Siegel, Rollins exchange student, are announcing the birth of a daughter, Vera Maria, on August 21, 1940. Bernhard is still in Wesermunde, Germany.

Class of 1930

Secretary: Clara Adolfs, Rollins College, Winter Park, Fla. Fourteenth Reunion in 1944.

The Class Scrap Book was sent merrily on its way last April, but alack and alas! Someone has been so busy (we won't say negligent) as not to pass it on, and it has not even reached the seventh name on the list. We know that it is a fascinating book, but had no idea that four or five people would require over seven months to look at it. Here's hoping it has not been lost but will be on its way steadily from now on.

Notice of the arrival of Stephen Manley Duckworth on July 27th, failed to be included in the last "Record", but we trust Louise and Manley will accept congratulations which are hearty even tho late.

On November 24th a letter, written September 27th, was received from Peter Berger in which he wrote: "I saw Bekassy recently. He is now working in a branch of the Hungarian National Bank at Ungvar. I am teaching in my fourth year in the German College in Budapest. I just spent two happy months in North Germany, and I soon hope to marry. Of Dinzi and Glos I know nothing. . . The blue Rollins pentant with the yellow letters still decorates my room. It has followed me to Budapest. 14th Reunion in 1944! I hope the war is over by then, and I can take part in it." We hope the last is true long before then, and that Peter and the others can be with us.

It was good to see Harrison Cobb in August, and the whole gang still regrets the good dinner we missed by two or three days, but the peaches were good, the trip into the gold mine exciting, and we enjoyed meeting Mrs. Cobb.

Ethel Hahn Comfort is mighty proud of her son who was captain of the Mami High School Football team this year. We think Harvey should come to Rollins.

A card from Virginia Stelle says that she had luncheon with Aurora McKay some time ago. Sorry my time was up before reaching New York, so had to forego that pleasure last fall. To have seen Ginny and Aurora would have been fun, to say nothing of perhaps catching a glimpse of Clementine Hall in the offices of the Harold Strong Foundation, and perhaps running up to Ossining to see the Ruth and Clyde Russell family, or out to Jackson Heights for a chat with Flora Furen Carmichael; having a peek at "H" Pipkorn Roehsler in her lovely home on Long Island; getting acquainted with young Asa Kent Jennings; and just maybe bumping into Welch Fisher or Bob James or Rusty Moody on the street! And the brief stop in Washington did not even allow for a phone call on Anita Cross Bringham. A four hour wait in Jacksonville would have been long enough for a few words with Dot Davis had we known she was there, but no doubt her civil service job at the naval air base would have been keeping her too busy even for a Rollins reunion.

We are all glad to have Hugh McKean back on campus, and are interested in the house he is building out in Comstock Park, near George and Becky Holt.

Miami's loss is Winter Park's gain, for Boots Tuttle Weston has sold her home down there and is settled in Winter Park. Harry is working out at Orange General Hospital, and Boots is busy helping a local poetry enthusiast edit a magazine for Florida poets.

Orlando has gained another permanent resident from New Jersey in Martha Schanck Persons and her family.

Rumor was going around that Mary Boyer was coming down to work in the Rollins Library, but so far she has not put in an appearance. What about it, Mary?

Mazzie Wilson had a grand trip to California last summer, and is all for flying everywhere. Since it took her only twenty-four hours to travel that far, who would blame her!

Isn't it strange that not one cent or even a half-cent postage stamp came as a result of the little article in the June "Record" about the money due Rollins from our Class for the palm tree marker?

Class of 1931

Secretary: Jewel Lewter, Box 425, Orlando, Fla. Twelfth Reunion in 1944.

Colfax Sanderson and Ruth Goodman were married in New York City on September 28. Mrs. Sanderson is connected with the New York Stage.

Whiting Hall is now with the Chrysler Corp., in Detroit, Mich.

Bill Rice has been appointed representative for Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada in the Orlando district. Bill, Dorothea and little Bill are living in Orlando also.

Classmates will regret to learn of the death on October 17, of Penelope Pattison Allen in Westwood, N. J. Penelope leaves a baby daughter.

Marjorie Rushmore O'Hara, (Mrs. A. C.), has gone down to Anniston, Ala., where her husband is stationed with the National Guard.

Class of 1932

Secretary: Lucille Tolson Moore (Mrs. William), 610 Butler Blvd., Daytona Beach, Fla. Eleventh Reunion in 1943.

Jack Kerr arrived in the good old U. S., San Francisco to be exact, September 21, 1940. He was on the Rollins campus long enough to tell us of his visit with Bob Currie in Honolulu and the studying he is going on with at Columbia, in the Department of Chinese and Japanese culture.

Dr. Russell Carson has moved his office from Orlando to Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Charles and Carolyn (Heine) Planck are announcing a second chip off the same Planck—Charles Robert, who arrived on July 23, at their home in Arlington, Va.

Miriam (Sprague) and Duke Wellington are the proud parents of a second son born on November 14, at Columbus, Ohio. The young man has been named Peter Sprague.

Catherine Schumacher and Dr. Alan R. Becker of Winchester, Ky., are to be married at St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Eustis on December 28.

Florence C. Walker and Mr. Thomas A. Provenzano were married on October 2, in Stapleton, Staten Island, N. Y.

Dr. Richard Wilkinson represented Rollins at the inauguration of Dr. James Franklin Findlay as President of Drury College, Springfield, Mo., on November 29. Dick is now teaching at the Southwest Missouri State Teacher's College.

Al Valdes is instructing in Spanish and English at Ocoee.

The announcement of the engagement of Elizabeth Rathbone to Steven Scudder has recently been made by her parents in Palmer, Mass.

Class of 1933

Secretaries: Thelma VanBuskirk Douglas (Mrs. Henry), Box 5323, Seabreeze Station, Daytona Beach, Fla.; Phillip Horton, Oakwood Drive, Peekskill, N. Y. Tenth Reunion in 1943.

Walter and Mary Lee (Korns) Perkins are announcing the arrival on October 18, of Philip Johnathan, at their home in Berwyn, Maryland.

Lois Hahn and Leslie A. Moffett, Jr., were married in Miami on October 1. They spent about three weeks in North Carolina and are now in Miami. They spent a short time on the campus on their way to North Carolina.

We have two social workers—Beth Cutter is doing social welfare work in Brooklyn and is living in New York City, while Elizabeth Moody is in Reading, Pa., as a psychiatric social work student in the guidance Institute of Berks County.

Elinor Estes Miller and young son, Tommy, are visiting her parents in Orlando, where Bill joined them for Thanksgiving.

Rollins alumnae will regret to hear of the death of Dr. Mary Leonard on October 7, 1940. Dr. Leonard received the honorary Degree of Doctor of Music in 1933.

Class of 1934

Secretaries: Janet Gibney Morse (Mrs. Stewart), West Woodstock, Conn. and Burleigh Drummond, Westinghouse Electrical Co., Mansfield, Ohio. Ninth Reunion in 1943.

Frank Dent is now with the National Broadcasting Company in New York, as a "newscaster."

Duke and Miriam (Sprague) Wellington are announcing the birth of Peter Sprague Wellington on November 14, in Columbus, Ohio. Duke is Assistant Dean of Men at Ohio State University.

Buck Moon is the author of a story published in the December Esquire.

Class of 1935

Secretary: Blanche G. Fishback Galey (Mrs. John), Charter Oak, Pittsburgh, Pa. Seventh Reunion in 1942.

The Bill Woodhulls up in Bronxville, are announcing the birth of their second child, William T., Jr., on September 29. Their first, a daughter, Elizabeth, is three years old. Bill is connected with the American Bank Note Co., in New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Barry (Rose Mary Rumby), are announcing the arrival of Edward, Jr., on September 30, at the Florida Sanitarium, Orlando.

Charlotte Rathbone and Gilmore Lloyd Farr were married in Palmer, Mass., on July 3.

LaGeorgia Newell and Miachael Allison, Jr., were married on October 19, in Chattanooga. They are "at home" at 204 High Street, Chattanooga.

Bob Warfield is in Winter Park for the winter and is already active in the Civic Players group in Orlando.

Kathleen Shepherd spent about two weeks visiting her father and mother in Winter Park, the latter part of November. She is with her sister, Dorothy Shepherd Smith in Strasburg, Va.

Word has reached us that Vincent Canzonari recently spoke on "The Interpretation of Japanese Music", over the Short Wave Radio from Tokio, Japan.

Kathleen Shepherd, after visiting in Winter Park with her parents, during November stopped over in St. Augustine for a visit of several days with Virginia Orebaugh Marchman.

Class of 1936

Secretary: Helen Jackson, 226 Park Ave., Swarthmore, Pa. Fifth Reunion in 1941.

"R" Brown was elected to Alpha Omega Alpha, honorary national medical fraternity, at Duke University. He is now an interne at the Illinois Central Hospital, Chicago.

Zan Birkbeck is attending the Emory University Library School in Atlanta this winter, working toward a degree in Library Science.

Leah Jean Bartlett Lasbury (Mrs. Clyde), visited her parents in Venice, Florida during November and stopped on the campus on her way home.

Alyce Cleveland is spending the winter in Orlando with Olive Dickson.

Jean Astrup and Eugene LeRoy Faubel were married last April 4, in Lakewood. They are living at 17656 Cannon Ave., Lakewood, O. Mr. Faubel is Assistant Purchaser for the National Bronze & Aluminum Co.

Jane (Thayer) and Norman MacGaffin are announcing the arrival of Norman John MacGaffin, III, on November 4, in Wilmington, Del.

Law and Amelia (Dailey) Mallard are busy with their music work in Palmetto. Law teaches in the Public School and Amelia has the "Mallard Music Studio" in addition to keeping up with the "future Rollinsite" age 17 months.

Gulielma Daves is back with the Cleveland Playhouse having been called back as Technical Director of the Children's Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Waverly Q. Smith (Eleanora Roush) are announcing the birth of a son, Marshall Dodd, on November 24 at their home in Charleston, W. Va.

Martha Marsh came down from White Springs to spend Thanksgiving with her sister Nina Marsh Hancock, '22, and attend the Rollins-Stetson game.

Class of 1937

Secretary: Grace Terry Marshall (Mrs. Nelson), 1139 Hampton St. Gainesville, Fla. Fifth Reunion in 1942.

Sally Farnsworth and Neal Waldo Dale were married August 24, in the Old Walpole Meeting House, South Bristol, Me.

Announcement has been received of the marriage on October 17 of John Bundy Brown and Jean Osborne Patterson in the Church of Saint Mary the Virgin, Falmouth Foreside, Maine. Johnny is a member of the insurance firm of F. H. Wilkins Co., in Portland.

Paul Parker and Carolyn Brehm were married on September 25, in the First Congregational Church in Amherst, Mass.

Aroxie Hagopian is a member of the faculty in the voice department at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas.

Eileen Gallagher and Alberto Warren were married on November 2, in Troy, N. Y. After the first of December they will be at home at Gansevoort House A. R., Dutch Village, Menands, N. Y.

Norman and Jane (Thayer) MacGaffin are announcing the birth of Norman John III on November 4, at Wilmington, Del.

Wilma Schmidt was married to Andrew P. Heymann in Gainesville on Thanksgiving Day, November 28. Mr. Heymann is connected with the firm of Solomon and Keis at Camp Blanding.

Mary Jane and Ted Klebsattel are in Adrian, Michigan this year where Ted is teaching music in the High School. Quite a jump from Key West, Florida to Michigan! How's the snow?

Watt Marchman has forsaken Rollins and Winter Park for historic St. Augustine. Watt has accepted a position as Librarian and Executive Secretary of the Florida Historical Society and has his office in the Alcazar Hotel in St. Augustine. While he and Virginia miss Winter Park (they say), very much, they are enjoying the historic old city and extend a warm welcome to any of their friends who may be passing thru to visit them.

Marcelle Hammond has opened a Dancing School in Winter Park, teaching the Conga, Rhumba, Viennese Waltz, Polka

and ordinary social dancing. She has two classes, one for Rollins people, and the other for the "Young married set" in town. Classes are held at the Whistling Kettle on Lyman Ave. Marcelle is being assisted by Jenelle Wilhite, a junior at Rollins. Among the outstanding pupils in her classes are Dr. Holt, Marge Weber and Dean Cleveland, who are working up the Conga and threaten to put the students to shame. Sally Hammond is now Assistant Instructor in Piano at the Rollins Conservatory, and head of the Music Dept., at the Seese School, a private school in Orlando. Sally had a lesson in September with James Friskin of the Juillard School in New York, and will have another during the Christmas holidays. Both girls will be in New York during vacation.

Class of 1938

Secretary: Opal Peters. Fifth Reunion in 1943.

Eleanor Giessen returned this fall to Wingate, North Carolina, for a second year on the faculty of Wingate Junior College — music, of course — piano and glee club.

Dud Felder, after captivating the Rollins Reunion, in conjunction with Mort Lichtenstein, doing their "professional pantomime", took himself off for a fine trip through the West with his family. Dud returned to the Yale Medical School in September.

Jack Rich is teaching at the Thomas School for Boys in Tucson, Arizona, for the winter months.

And John G. Lonsdale, Jr., is hard at work making a tremendous success of the Colony House. John not only has a Flying John Lonsdale was on campus for the open-Jenny, doll racks and movies, but he's leading a sure 'nough swing orchestra. John Lonsdale was a campus for the opening of College.

Seymour Ballard, in California for the past two years, misses Florida like sin.

The engagement of Charles Draper to Miss Marion DeWaters Taylor of Norwalk, Conn., has recently been announced. The wedding is to take place during the winter.

Lieutenant Loren Max Harrington, Max to his friends, was graduated on November 15th with the Class 40G of the Gulf Coast Air Corps Training Center, Kelly Field, Texas. Max has enlisted for foreign service but has received no orders as yet.

Announcement has been received of the marriage on October 10, of Grace Hiteshew and Sandy Showalter at Grace's home in Parkersburg, W. Va. They are "at home" at 409 Ashland Ave., in Buffalo, where Sandy is with the Curtiss Aeroplane Co.

Walter Chapin is traveling for the U. S. Dyestuff Corporation with New York, Philadelphia and all of Maine as his territory. Walter plans to go to California via the Canal in January and will fly back.

Richard Baldwin and Catherine Talton were married at the home of the bride in Apopka, on the evening of October 11. They are at home at 777 McIntyre Ave., Winter Park. Dick is in the hardware business with his father.

Announcements have been received of the marriage on October 19 of Jose Rodriguez and Maria Guadalupe Hernandez which took place in Mexico City.

Ruth Elizabeth Melcher is teaching piano at St. Margaret's School, an Episcopal School for Girls at Tappahannock, Va.

Dr. Glenn Frank, Hon. LL. D., killed in accident September 15, chairman of the Republican Party's program committee, was a candidate for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator in the Wisconsin primary held September 17. Dr. Frank was the former president of the University of Wisconsin.

James Haig and Barbara Barnes were married on September 7. The ceremony took place in the garden of the bride's uncle and aunt in Norwalk, Conn. Jimmy and his bride visited on the campus during their wedding trip.

Robert and Jessie (Steele) Kurvin are announcing the birth of a son, Robert Steele, on August 9.

Fentress Gardner recently arrived from Petsamo, Finland, on the S. S. American Legion.

Albert Borden and Miss Lesley Stoddart Smith were married in the Protestant Episcopal Church, Hastings-On-Hudson on the afternoon of November 27. Al and Mrs. Borden will live in Savannah, Ga., where he will be stationed with Battery G, Seventh Regiment at Fort Savannah.

Class of 1939

Secretary: Frances Daniel, P. O. Box 836, Orlando, Fla. Fifth Reunion in 1944.

Jeff Liberman comes to the head of the class for being the first to answer my letter — If you've seen "Fantasia" it might be because Jeff is with the publicity of Walt Disney Productions, Inc., in New York.

Virginia Biddle is teaching in Noway, Maine. While she was hostess in the Cafe Rouge of the Hotel Statler in Boston, last summer she saw Hal Brady, Wendy Davis and Zette Kennedy. At her present job she teaches French, English, is sponsor of the Sophomore class, has the French Club, Girls Glee Club and often goes to Boston for the week-ends. So Virginia's life does not seem dull.

Dusty Fennell has forsaken the furniture business to join the Seventh Regiment of New York. He adds that there are a few from Rollins there but doesn't mention their names. His regiment comes to Savannah later this winter.

Mrs. A. B. Haswell whom most of us remember as Ethyl Horine now resides in Birmingham. She spent September and October in Asheville and now is knitting sea boot stockings for British War Relief. Incidentally, she enclosed a contribution to the Alumni Fund in her letter. Hurrah!

Marguerite Beyer after attending Traphagen School of Fashion, working at Bloomingdale's and Veiman and Marcus, Dallas, Texas, has returned to West Palm Beach. There she is "Secretary to the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce". Keeping up her archery interest developed at Rollins, she organized the West Palm Beach Archery Club.

Ruth Hill Carrison writes a glowing letter. Says she has no news, but is having a grand time in Jacksonville. Recently she has taken up golf. She includes that Tubby and she did not make connections in Jacksonville.

Georgie Fuller writes a nice long letter as usual, (the secretary's delight) and the following are excerpts from it. Dick Camp is being transferred from Kansas City, back to Baltimore, while he climbs with the Puritan Gas Co. Jack Makemson is planning to go to Baltimore for a Christmas reunion with them. He is still with Remington Rand Inc., and in spite of his low draft number, the company thinks enough of him to continue sending him to their exclusive training school.

George himself, is boasting of steak once a week instead of his former New York diet. George is being paid money to conduct a spelling bee. In addition to his radio work he has the "Talent Shows" for which he is paid by an advertising agency. Enclosed in my letter was a ticket to a box seat of Club 1270, where he conducts a "glorified Rollins Variety Hour". (Incidentally yours truly is still looking for a ride to Baltimore to use that ticket). George looks like the man who is getting somewhere fast and we will probably say "We knew him when."

Matrimonial Bureau

The engagement of Florence Swift to Charles L. Durrance, Jr., has recently been announced by her parents. The wedding will take place in the Frances Chapel of the Knowles Memorial Chapel on December 28. Mr. Durrance is on the faculty of the P. K. Yonge Laboratory School at the University of Florida. Florence has been a member of the faculty of Cherokee Junior High School in Orlando, since her graduation from Rollins. Frances Daniel will be one of her attendants and Jarry Smith will be among those assisting at the reception.

Alberto Warren married Eileen Gallagher on November 2, in Troy, N. Y. After the first of December, they will be at home at Gansevoort House A. R., Dutch Village, Menands, N. Y.

The marriage of Rosalie Reimold Dean to Ward Lehner Atwood took place September 11, 1940, at Saint Bartholomew's Chapel, New York.

Priscilla Smith's engagement to Johnston Kingsley was announced in September. Mr. Kingsley is a graduate of Harvard in the class of 1937.

Marion "Snooks" McGinnis is assistant coach at Bradenton, Florida.

Ollie Daugherty has been selected president of Gulf Coast Football Conference. This is the first time the president has not been a school principal. Congratulations, Ollie.

June and Ollie Daugherty were on campus for Thanksgiving and the Rollins-Stetson Homecoming game.

Ann Roper is continuing her graduate work at Columbia University toward a Master of Science degree.

Bill Scheu entered the sales school of International Business Machines Corp., last July 15, finishing his course in August. He was then sent down to the office in Atlanta, where he is now trying to sell Electric Writing machines. From all reports he is greatly enjoying the work and Atlanta. He dropped into Winter Park for the recent Alumni Conference.

We hear — Paul Welch has joined the Navy; Frank Daunis is selling insurance; Augusta Yust Hume is a widow in St. Louis holding down her job with IBM, while Warren has been sent to Texas for 3 months; that Tubby (Marilyn Tubbs) is going to take a business course in the North this winter; that she and Peggy Mary Whitely enjoyed their trip to Mexico, greatly; that some people are very bad about answering the class letters; and that your correspondent is glad this column is finished.

Class of 1940

Secretary: Lois Sue Terry, 2818 Morgan St., Tampa, Fla. Fifth Reunion in 1945.

Sarah Smith and Edward C. Dieckerhoff were married in New York City on June 8. They are now living at 180 E. End Ave. Priscilla was maid of honor for her sister.

David E. Poor and Nancy Lee Stickney were married on Oct. 4, at the bride's home in Beverly, Mass. They are now "at home" at 13 Currier Park, Ipswich, Mass. David is connected with Hygrade Sylvania Corp.

Hortense Ford and John Oliver Wilson were married at the Church of the Ascension, New York City, on August 22nd.

Betty Yokel won a full scholarship for study at the Julliard Graduate School of Music in New York City. Good luck, Betty!

Bette Haggerty is stenoging down at the River House in Miami, Fla.

There have been numerous campus visits from the galavanting Class of 1940. George Victor brought his brother down to enter him as a freshman; Ann Kruse and Carl Good were both on campus the week-end of November 16th; Margery Chindahl left her school books long enough to spend Thanksgiving with her folks in Maitland; and Sue Terry spirited up several week-ends to look in on the new students.

Buck Jones is now in Hartford Conn., in the training school of the Aetna Casualty Insurance Co., and after Christmas will be sent to the company's office in Atlanta.

George Krouse is the Director of Publicity for the Amalgamated Life program, heard over the NBC network, 4 times a week.

Jack Justice was seen on campus Thanksgiving and attended the Rollins-Stetson game the following evening.

Class of 1941

Edith Moodie, English exchange student during 1939-40, returned to her home in England, during the past summer. She writes: "It may seem strange, but I'm much happier here than I was in the U. S. A., where I worried very much more about my people and so on. And I feel there's something very big going on and I would hate to be out of it."

She writes of being "back among the air-raids again. The German planes come over every night, but they don't always drop bombs and the casualties and damage here so far, have been very slight." Edith is working in a canteen and is also attending secretarial school.

Class of 1942

Mildred Nix was visiting on campus November 12th.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

PLEASE READ BEFORE NOMINATING!

The Executive Committee in order to meet the objections raised by some of the alumni to nominations from a local nominating committee hereby open to the entire alumni the privilege to nominate for office those who will be placed on the ballot for annual election in January. Whether or not this right will be continued will depend on the response on this nomination ballot. The following is printed here for your guidance.

President: A special requirement of this office is that the President be in Winter Park at least on Alumni Day of Founders Week. Rex Beach, '97, has served this office for 13 years.

Vice-President: There is no special requirement for this office. Thomas P. Johnson, '34, has served this office for three years. He has said he does not believe in a fourth term!

Secretary: The Executive Secretary has for several years filled this office. Katherine Lewis Lehman, '27, has been Executive Secretary for nine years.

Treasurer: The Assistant Treasurer of the College has for several years filled this office. Frederick H. Ward, '21, has served as Treasurer of the Alumni Association for seventeen years.

Executive Committee Chairman: The chairman is chosen from the Executive Committee by the Executive Committee at its first meeting following election.

Executive Committee: It is necessary that these committeemen be close enough to Winter Park, to meet on short notice and decide such matters of policy as may arise for immediate decision between annual meetings. Members of this committee who have served during the past year are as follows: W. E. Winderweedle, '28, chairman, Helen Steinmetz, '04, Charlotte Steinhans, '30, Wilbur Jennings, '29. In addition Rebecca Coleman Holt, '34, has served as Chairman of the Social Committee for the past two years, but this position is filled by the Executive Committee.
