

EXCEL POEM

= IF(you ask if it's worth corporate money, THEN
I will lie to you, ELSE gain more weight)

= AND(look for ways to hide the hypertension
in my neck and hands, discover the relaxation
of television hypnosis)

= OR(bury myself in fantasies of living
without headaches, stop strategizing in the shower, binge drink myself even fatter)

= LOOKUP(an estranged friend, between meetings and sitcoms, twice, but never call from lack of motivation)

= CONCATENATE(false handshakes, borrowed optimism, cases of beer)

Undo it all, start over,
a blank cell.
